Unbeaten Nebraska, seeking a fourth straight victory, wears a long toga of favoritism over Kansas State Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

A capacity Band Day audience of 39,000 is expected to fill every reach of the stadium at 2 p.m., kickoff time.

A total of 59 high school bands, involving over 3,500 bandmen, will join the Husker band for extra entertainment.

A temperature reading in the high 70s will prevail, says the weatherman, and the skies will be slightly cloudy.

Not as cloudy perhaps as the countenance of Coach J. William

Ike Changes His Position On Finances

By RELMAN MORIN
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Gen.

Dwight Eisenhower replied "of course" Friday to the question of whether he will make a statement about his financial position before the presidential election Nov. 4.

In saying this, he appeared to have changed his mind, in some degree, at least, since last Sunday when he told correspondents aboard his campaign train: "I haven't decided, but as of now I don't think I will do anything about it."

A written statement was sent to the Republican presidential candidate by correspondents Friday which read:

"May we please have an answer directly from you to the question whether you intend to make public before the election your income tax returns or a statement giving substantially the same information?"

His reply, delivered by Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, was: "Of course. If anyone was interested, they can have a report as soon as it is completed. It's virtually all a matter of public record anyway."

Hagerty was asked whether he knew when the statement might be ready, and he said he did not. In answer to another question, he said he had nothing to add to what Eisenhower had said.

All this took place in Phoenix, Ariz., Friday in a slam bang rush aboard buses carrying newsmen covering the general's presidential campaign to and from Montgomery Field, where he made a speech.

The situation that precipitated it had been developing since Eisenhower's informal conversation last Sunday, aboard his train. He had placed the remarks he made then concerning a report on his financial status off the record.

The version of that conversation published Friday by the Baltimore Sun and Doris Fleeson in the New York Post blew the lid off.

Word of the publication reached Eisenhower's campaign train in the early hours this morning, as it rolled into Arizona, moving east from California where he had been campaigning.

The first response was a statement by his campaign manager, Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire. Adams said Eisenhower was "willing to show it to anyone who is really interested."

The political reporters promptly drafted the full question, and Eisenhower's answer came back as they were going to the airport. In that Sunday conversation, Eisenhower said:

Students Arrive For Big NU Band Day

Buses carrying a few of the 62 Nebraska high school bands due in Lincoln Saturday for the University's annual Band Day began arriving Friday night.

Chadron, Kimball, Mitchell and Scottsbluff bands arrived early in the evening. The Scottsbluff band came for double duty—playing at a game with the Lincoln High in addition to the Band Day festivities. For an hour Saturday morning beginning at 9:45 the bands will form on 10th. The line of march will be: South on 10th to O, east on O to 15th, north on 15th to R, west on R to 12th and north on 12th to the stadium. During the half of the Nebraska-Kansas State game they will form a mass band on the field to present the annual colorful show. Among the bands will be those from Lincoln High, Northeast, and College View schools.

Raecke Urges More Citizen Responsibility

"We take great pride in our freedom and rights, but do we pay enough attention to our responsibilities?"

With this question Walter R. Raecke, Democratic nominee for governor, preached his non-partisan address to the Presbyterian Mariners of the Second Church at 26th and P.

Citing recent voting figures of foreign democracies, the Central City attorney said the voting record in the United States in 1948 demonstrated that slightly less than half of the eligible voters were interested in the issues.

"We should get the people who failed to vote in the last general election interested in the current campaign," Raecke urged, noting that "Nebraska was little better than the rest of the nation—only 59 per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls."

The example, he said, shows how easy a minority not holding the common view on a specific issue could determine the outcome while representing barely 25 per cent of the people of voting age.

"It is trivial things that contribute to citizenship responsibility," Raecke asserted. "We all have our part to play—whether it is large or small."

"Citizenship starts at home," he continued, "and it is there that we should set the example of good citizenship."

Valiant South Korean Troops Scale Crest, Win Full Control

... In Five-Day Battle Worst In More Than Year

SEOUL (Saturday) (AP) — South Korean infantrymen Saturday wrested complete control of strategic White Horse hill from the Chinese Communists, a UN frontline officer reported.

In bitter fighting on the western front, sturdy soldiers of the Republic of Korea ninth division encircled Reds dug in on White Horse with a two-prong flanking movement.

They scaled the crest, leaving only two pockets of battered Chinese on the hill, the officer said—one on the southwest slope and another near the base to the north.

White Horse, overlooking a main invasion route to Seoul, capital of South Korea, changed hands more than 20 times since Monday in the fiercest action in more than a year.

The frontline officer said an earlier report that the U. S. Army-trained ROKS had captured a hill a mile north of White Horse was erroneous. The South Koreans, he said, made a diversionary attack there, but withdrew at mid-morning.

No counterattacks had been reported so far by 16,000 Red troops understood to be ready to join the five-day battle for White Horse.

Recapture of the crest of White Horse came after South Korean troops slipped behind the Communist flank and fought on the Red-held hill to the north of White Horse.

The South Koreans dubbed their flanking movement Operation Iron Fist because of its nearness to the city of Chonwon, which means "field of iron." The embattled hill dominates the south-west corner of the Reds' old Iron Triangle.

The fighting on White Horse practically stopped at dawn with the Reds holding the crest and the South Koreans holding to their new positions down the slope.

After a night of rain, today dawned clear. The height, guarding the approaches to the Chonwon Valley, on one of the main invasion routes to Seoul, changed hands more than a score of times since

Monday, and seven times on Friday alone.

It was the fiercest action in more than a year.

Wild hand-to-hand fighting in pitch darkness late Friday turned the South Korean Ninth Invasion troops off the crest.

They reformed and launched a counter-attack early Saturday.

Allied and Communist tanks

duelled on the lower slope. Allied planes dropped flares to light up the eerie battle scene.

Fighting continued Friday at several other points on the 155-mile front, but was dwarfed by the action at White Horse.

Bad weather over much of North Korea hampered air strikes.

Adlai Stands Pat In South

Refuses Compromise On Either Civil Rights Or Tidelands Oil

FROM PRESS DISPATCHES

NEW ORLEANS — Gov. Adlai Stevenson refused to budge Friday night from his stands on the issues of civil rights and tidelands oil which have cost him political support in the south.

Stevenson got a rousing after-dark welcome from several thousand persons at the airport and more thousands downtown who clapped and waved as his motorcade crept along famous Canal Street.

Crowds were packed five and six deep in many places, pushing out almost to his car.

Whether they were yelling and cheering, too, was hard to say since a sound truck drowned out any of that with a record of "Don't Let Them Take It Away."

There were fireworks and bonfires, women jumping up and down, kids running alongside. One big store straddled the fence with an electric sign in four letters: "Welcome to the South, Adlai and Ike."

The Democratic presidential candidate, addressing a New Orleans audience, declared again that he stands on the party platform "with respect to minority rights." The platform calls for the federal government to work toward ending racial discrimination.

Stevenson also spelled out again his views on the oil-rich submerged lands off Louisiana, Texas and California, by saying he opposes any giveaway of them to the individual states. But he called for legislation providing for their fair administration and sharing of the proceeds.

Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana and Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas have announced they will not support the Illinois governor because of his position on tidelands oil.

Returns To One Subject

The Illinois governor then turned to the Russian threat as he did earlier in the day in Oklahoma City, and speaking in a world-trade-minded tone, declared:

"I say to you with the utmost conviction that it was follow the suicidal foreign trade fanaticism of the Republican party, we may condemn this nation to isolation and destruction."

Stevenson faced up to the civil rights and tidelands controversies within the first few hundred words of a long-prepared speech.

"As you know, I stand on the Democratic party platform with the respect to minority rights. I have only one observation to make on this subject:

"That must sadden you as it saddens me. It is that, after two thousand years of Christianity, we need discuss it at all."

Turning to tidelands, the governor recalled the Supreme Court decision that the right to the oil beneath the coastal submerged lands is vested in all the people and not the individual states off whose shores deposits are found. Then he asserted:

"Well, I have stated my position on this—and only one position—and I want to make clear that I lack the versatility of my opponent, who has had at least three separate positions on the tidelands question."

"If the submerged lands, by virtue of the ruling of the United States Supreme Court, are a national, and not a state, asset, the question presented is one of wise policy in the disposition of that asset. I do not think it is wise policy for the Congress to institute a practice of giving away such national assets to individual states."

Inmate Back In Custody After Brief Escape

Lincoln police cut short the freedom of escaped Reformatory inmate Donald Strook Jr. 26, Friday night.

Strook, whose method of escape from the state reformatory Friday morning remained a mystery, was nabbed after he aroused the suspicion of a policeman on 10th Street.

Strook temporarily escaped being caught there by using credentials as Robert Franks of Los Angeles.

But the officer called headquarters, struck by the strong resemblance of "Franks" to Strook's description despite the fact that he had changed clothes.

Detectives E. R. Henninger and Clarence Schwarz made the arrest in a bar shortly thereafter.

Strook escaped sometime before the noon dinner count at the Reformatory. Superintendent George Morris of the Reformatory said there were no signs of how he got out although he believes he may have made his getaway in a truck by hiding out.

Strook was sentenced to one to three years for breaking and entering last March from Douglas County.

Beatrice banquet, he explained that Eisenhower has stated he wants 100 per cent parity. "But let's not gamble on promises," said McCormick, "let's insure a continued better life with the Democrats."

Caravan Democrats were surprised at Tecumseh when met by the high school band and about 1,500 students who had turned out for a rally before the Tecumseh-Peru Prep football game Friday night. The kids decided to stick around the court house square with their parents to hear the candidates before the rally.

With the caravan were William Meier, state chairman of the Democratic party; Mr. and Mrs. A. Clifford Anderson—Anderson is candidate for lieutenant governor; Gus Beschner, candidate for state auditor of public accounts; J. C. McReynolds, candidate for railway commissioner; Stanley Long, candidate for the Senate six-year term; James Hart, candidate for Congress from the second district; Harry R. Swanson, candidate for secretary of state; and John T. Harris, chairman of the agriculture committee of the state party.

McCormick Blasts Ike As Democrat Caravan Covers Southeast Part Of Nebraska

By JEFF WITHROW
Star Staff Writer

State Democrats took an Ike-blasting Washington dignitary onto their motor caravan Friday for a honk-stop tour of southeast Nebraska.

Carrying on the main oratory for the bus load of Democrats was C. J. McCormick, U. S. undersecretary of agriculture, who labeled Eisenhower a "buck private farmer."

Absent from the campaign, which began in Omaha with an 8 a.m. breakfast and ended following a banquet for townspeople of Beatrice, was Walter Raecke, Democratic candidate for Governor, who had other speaking engagements.

McCormick told the banquet gathering in Beatrice and the curb gatherings in Plattsmouth, Nebraska City, Auburn, Humboldt and Tecumseh, "Eisenhower is a good general for the Army, but on the farm he would be classified as a buck private."

He explained that Eisenhower has led "a sheltered life" in the Army and does not know how to live as a civilian. "Buying through post exchanges is poor experience in buying as a civilian," said McCormick.

"That bumper corn crop of yours," he told residents in Plattsmouth, "is worth $1.60 a bushel minimum under the present administration support program. That corn would be worth only $1.18 under the sliding scale

On rural electrification, McCormick said, "It was the Democrats in the 80th Congress who put that bill through." He added, "101 Democrats voted for that bill and three against while only 51 Republicans voted for the bill and 151 against it."

"Look at the GOP platform," McCormick told crowds at Auburn, where caravan delegates ate lunch with local dignitaries. "The Republicans left out the farm credit program and the school lunch program," he said. "Every farmer needs credit and every farm child needs a hot lunch."

Truman At End Of Tour: 'Ike Unfit For Presidency'

New York Trek Often Rough One

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
NEW YORK (AP) — President Truman ended a coast-to-coast whistle stop train tour here after blasting Dwight D. Eisenhower as unfit to be President.

He said the Republican nominee, by his endorsement of Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.), has stooped so low that he is "not fit to be trusted with the great office of President."

It was a somewhat touchy Truman who arrived at Grand Central Terminal to prolonged cheers and the blare of a band. Police said 20,000 persons were on hand. They gave the President the loudest reception of his entire trip.

The President warmed up to their welcome, and even the "We Like Ike" cries from the fringe of the crowd failed to wipe the renewed smile from his face. He said the reception "overwhelmed" him.

'GOP Has No Case'

He told the New York audience he's been "trying to force the Republicans to state their issues, but I don't believe they have any."

Truman ran into mildly heavy going during the final Buffalo-New York leg of his 8,500 mile campaign tour for the 1952 Democratic ticket.

For the first time, he was the target of a tomato at Amsterdam. But it was so wide of the President that he didn't even see it.

At Hudson, the most organized heckling of the trip confronted him. Teenagers jostled one another angrily. He helped police quiet the uproar among the 2,500 spectators by a reference to a high school football game there.

Most newspapermen aboard the train agreed Truman handled what could have been a delicate situation with expert campaign showmanship.

Mild booing and "We Like Ike" calls marked his Hudson appearance, but there also were cheers and applause aplenty. Daughter Margaret was cheered lustily.

Teenage hecklers and Eisenhower sign carriers at Batavia were advised by Truman to "go home and tell your mama and papa to vote the Democratic ticket."

Truman winds up his 15-day campaign program with speeches in Harlem and before an Italian-American group.

He'll be back in Washington Sunday to get ready for a New England tour beginning Wednesday night.

In Albany, before a crowd of 10,000 Truman charged Eisenhower has disqualified himself for the presidency by raising questions in the campaign that "strike a blow at the morale" of free nations fighting in Korea.

It was at Utica that Truman mentioned McCarthy and said Eisenhower "betrayed his principles and deserted his friends."

Howell, uninjured in the accident, was taken to his home for treatment for shock. Lyons was taken to St. Elizabeth, treated was in a collision with a truck and dismissed.

Hastings State Hospital Will Get New Building, Two New Wings

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Next step in rehabilitation of buildings at institutions under the board of control from funds raised by the special 1.1 mill levy will be at the Hastings State Hospital, Mrs. Harold Prince, chairman, said Friday the board has decided.

A new medical surgical building is being planned for the north end of the campus which will provide 180 beds for patients. Two wings are also planned for the receiving building which will add 134 beds.

With the new bed capacity and some contemplated realignment of patients, the board has hopes of being able to raise the annex and the old main building which were condemned by the state fire marshal in 1947. No estimate has been made on the probable cost.

"These buildings are the worst area in the entire state hospital program," Mrs. Prince explained. The Hastings projects were made first priority after construction is completed on the new building at the Norfolk State hospital which will cost $1,400,000.

While hospital construction and remodeling has received the most attention in the building program, Mrs. Prince said that other institutions were not being overlooked and that a school building at the Boys Training school at Kearney would follow. Population at the school is rising rapidly with a present total of 174 which is cramping training facilities.

Holdrege Coed Named Farmers Formal 'Queen'

A blonde 20-year-old Holdrege girl, Artie Wescott, was crowned Queen of the Farmers Formal at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture Friday night.

The annual dance is characterized by cotton and denim attire.

Miss Wescott was selected by popular vote of the students earlier in the week from candidates consisting only of senior girls. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Wescott.

Plans to Teach

A vocational education major, Miss Wescott has been practicing teaching at Waverly High School for the past three weeks. She plans to teach following graduation in June.

Miss Wescott is a member of Chi Omega sorority in addition to being vice president of Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary, and secretary of Gamma Alpha Chi, advertising honorary. She also is social chairman of Mortar Board, vice president of the College of Agriculture YWCA and associate editor of the Cornhusker Countryman.

Miss Wescott's attendants for the Farmers Formal also were runners up in the popularity contest for queen. They are: Marilyn Bamesberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bamesberger of Ord.

Marilyn Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cook of Ord.

Margaret Harman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Harmon of Elgin.

Joan Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Meyer of Phillips.

The queen and her attendants were presented to students and faculty with scenery providing the country touch. Theme of the decorations was "Roundup." Miss Wescott was presented by Dale Olson of York, president of the agricultural executive board, College of Agriculture student governing body.

FARMERS' QUEEN—Artie Wescott, Holdrege, was crowned queen of the Farmers Formal at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture Friday night. She was selected by popular vote of the students.

Next Governor Will Be Faced With Higher Budget Requests

Budget requests that will face the incoming governor for the next biennium will be higher than the appropriations made for the present biennium, Tax Commissioner Philip K. Johnson said Friday, on the basis of those submitted and information from other agencies.

"Our problem now is to see that they are realistic and at the minimum for adequate operation and not prepared in the expectation that they will be reduced and allowances made for cuts," Johnson said.

Johnson said that from the information they have received the total will be some larger but that some reductions in budgets have been made. The board of control and assistance budgets, University of Nebraska and four normal schools are still to be received and account for a large part of the amount budgeted from the general fund.

The highway department which has budgeted $37,000,000 including federal funds will have little effect on the general tax as the funds for matching come from the gasoline tax.

The assistance department which received about $42,000,000 for the last biennium is expected to have surplus but new budgets are awaiting experience with costs under the increased ceiling granted at the special session of the legislature.

The surplus is accounted for largely by more strict enforcement of the relative responsibility law by the counties and the law making step-fathers responsible for care of step-children.

Up $1,500,000

The university budget is expected next week. An increase of $1,500,000 is reported in their budget.

Mrs. Prince said that the board of control has made the five per cent reduction in expenditures requested by Gov. Val Peterson and should have a surplus. Increasing populations at the 18 institutions under their direction with 2,600 employees and 8,800 inmates may cause requests to be slightly higher because some of the money will not be spent for three years.

Budget Director Paul Wagner plans to have the first meetings on budgets with the expending agencies next week.

IPR Invitation Once Proposed For Stevenson

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee has made public material showing that Alger Hiss wanted Adlai Stevenson, now the Democratic presidential nominee, invited to an Institute of Pacific Relations meeting in 1942.

As to Stevenson, the committee made public a letter dated Oct. 21, 1942. The letter, written by William W. Lockwood, then IPR secretary, to Robert W. Barnett, contained this passage about persons to be invited to an institute conference in San Francisco:

"Another possibility—we might consider somebody from (the late Navy secretary) Knox's office or (the late secretary of war) Stimson's. Coe and Hiss mentioned Adlai Stevens (correct), one of Knox's special assistants."

Community Toy Shop Ponders Problem Of Better Toys For Needy Children

How to provide toys of better quality to needy children this Christmas from the Community Toy Shop is one of the problems facing the committee in charge this year.

The Family Service Association Board of Directors at a Friday meeting decided that toys of poor quality and toys that obviously are "hand-me-downs" do more damage than good to a child's morale. The Association is the sponsoring organization of the 21-year-old toy shop.

Following a report by Mrs. J. E. Miller, chairman of the Toy Shop Committee of the Association, a Community Chest Agency, the board decided to emphasize the need for more new toys this year.

Type Improved

There already has been a trend toward improving the type of toys, Victor Seller, chairman, explained. He pointed out that the cost of the program has increased from $43.55 in 1937 to $445.15 in 1951.

Although a definite date for the shop has not been set, it will be held some time early in December, Sellers said.

Purpose of the shop is to provide families unable to buy Christmas gifts for children an opportunity to get toys.

A history of the shop which was begun in 1931 during the depression, was given by Mrs. O. L. Webb, vice president, who said the number of children who were served during 1933, 22,000 has decreased to 586 in 1951.

The shop, which is financed today by the Community Chest, was operated prior to 1931 by city firemen who gathered, repaired and distributed toys. In 1936, Mrs. Webb, reported, the project became known as the Community Toy Shop and it was housed in the agency building at 228 So. 10th where it has been since.

Another point the board is stressing this year, Sellers said, was that the public should not use the shop as a place to discard cast off toys which are unrepairable and which the agency in turn will have to discard.

Ike's Last Living Aunt Dies In West Coast City

UPLAND, Calif. (INS)—Mrs. Anna Eisenhower, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's last living aunt, died Friday without realizing the hope of seeing her famed nephew as a presidential candidate.

Rev. Adolph Matzner Reported Improving

The Evangelical Reformed minister of Plattsmouth, injured seriously in an accident Wednesday morning, is reported in improved condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Rev. Adolph Matzner, who suffered numerous fractured ribs and a crushed chest, was reported by his doctor as still being in serious condition, but getting better.

The four women passengers in the automobile, two of whom were seriously injured, are reported better.

Rev. Domas Accepts Pastorate At All-Souls Unitarian Church Here

The pastorate position at All Souls Unitarian Church has been accepted by the Rev. Isaiah J. Domas of Erie, Pa., according to announcement made Friday by F. E. Henzlik, president of the church board of trustees.

The Rev. Mr. Domas, who has been serving the First Unitarian Church in Erie since 1950, was elected by the Lincoln congregation last Sunday. He and Mrs. Domas and their 9-year-old daughter will arrive in Lincoln in time for the pastor to begin ministerial duties in January.

The pastor is a Springfield College graduate holding a masters degree. He has a STB degree from Tufts School of Religion and has attended Harvard Divinity School.

In addition he has been an instructor in social ethics and history at Tufts College, and from 1948 to 1950 was an instructor in the Department of Social Research at the Atlanta University School of Social Work.

He has held pastorates at the Universalist Ministry from 1941 to 1947 and at the Atlanta, Ga. Universalist-Unitarian Church in 1947 and 1948.

'After-Hours' YW Club Is Planned

Plans for organizing an "after-hours" club for employed girls who are recent high school graduates were announced by Mrs. Donald Helmsdoerfer at the monthly meeting of the YWCA board of directors.

Mrs. John E. Curtiss, chairman of volunteer leadership, reported a need for Y-Teen advisors at Northeast High School and Whittier Junior High School, and outlined a plan by which committee members will visit rooms in private homes listed as vacancies at the YW room registry.

A series of lectures for expectant parents will be offered at the YWCA in co-operation with the Public Health Nursing Service, Red Cross, Lancaster County Medical Society and obstetrical supervisors from three Lincoln hospitals.

A German woman brought to the United States under auspices of the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor, will visit the YWCA during November.

Organization of a women's chorus, directed by Mrs. Richard Young, YWCA was reported by

The Enemy We Fight

So the top issue is Communism? It predominates discussion in this presidential campaign. It fills the air—day after day—and night after night—with fury and thunder. Its importance can be conceded while more than 155 million sturdy, decent and loyal Americans, utilizing a common, garden variety of intelligence, well may ask themselves if a group with an authentic, recognized strength of but 43,217 shall take over the thought and daily lives of more than 155 millions.

What is the numerical strength of this enemy within our midst? How powerful is it? Has it been gaining in numbers or has it been losing? By what authority is that figure of 43,217 used to set forth the actual following which Communism has in this country? For anyone willing to take the time and energy to get at the facts, it is not difficult to obtain confirmation. According to the World Almanac for 1952 (page 216), at the close of 1951 the number of Communists in the United States was 43,217. The World Almanac is a standard work, universally recognized and accepted for research. Slightly more than a year earlier, in September of 1950, the FBI (Federal Bureau of Investigation under J. Edgar Hoover) reported a Communist membership in the United States of 54,174, a loss in 12 months of more than 10,000 members. And for the 1947-1948 period, the World Almanac reports a membership of between 75,000 and 80,000, a loss in Communist membership of more than 40 per cent. Even more significant and inviting to thought is that in 1928, the year former President Herbert Hoover triumphed impressively, the Workers' party candidate for President polled 161,000 votes.

Despite the politicians, the American people are winning their fight. They are winning their fight because overwhelmingly the people of this country believe in the dignity of man, the glory of the free mind, the superior advantages of the capitalistic system. They are winning their fight because any able-bodied man or woman who wants to work has a job at good wages instead of hopelessly wandering the streets seeking employment. They are winning their fight because in this country people have a reverence for the right of a free conscience. This fight is being won in America without spilling blood on American soil because the American people know they themselves enjoy the highest living standards of any people in the world, because they value freedom.

Is it any wonder that millions of voters have become confused? What is all this fury about? Is it the position of those who choose to make Communism the top issue of this campaign to the exclusion of many worthy matters of concern, that a nation of 155 million staunch Americans should shudder at the imminent perils presented by 43,217 recognized Communists?

We said in this column a few days ago that the job of policing Communists belongs solely to the FBI. If J. Edgar Hoover is willing to accept the figure of 43,217, or his own figure of 54,174 more than a year earlier, is it impossible for an agency, in which all of us have the utmost faith, to protect the security of this country? Does Mr. Hoover need a larger appropriation? Does he need more men? If he does, then post haste Congress should increase FBI's appropriation. If actually there are only 43,000 Communists in the United States, it should not be difficult for the FBI to tail them night and day to keep an eye on their skulduggery.

We say that the fight against Communism falls squarely upon the FBI and if the present head of that agency is not able to handle the job, with full support and encouragement from the American people, then we ought to get a new head for the FBI. He ought to have the money, the men, the blessing of every loyal American.

Editorial Of The Day

One Vote

(From The Blackfoot, Idaho, Daily Bulletin)
Before the recent primary a number of Blackfooters were known to tell friends that they would register, sure, so the registrar could get the twenty-five cent fee for all new names, but: "I'm not going to vote."

How incredible! How remarkable! How un-American!

Sure, neighbor, put me down in your book. What can I lose? I'll have more important things to do on election day so don't expect me to vote! Go ahead and register me.

But that's not very patriotic, Mister. Not very American. "How dare you imply that I'm not a good American? I'm as good as you and mebbe better. I pay taxes, probably a lot more than you."

Sure, you're a good American to certain people. Sam Slick, who holds office let us say in an adjoining county, thinks you're A-number-1. Why? Mebbe because Sam is dipping into the public till now and then, or planting his friends and relatives on the payroll, there to loaf on your time, or just letting the public business slide. Sam would mount the nearest soap box to tell everybody you were a great American. Sam doesn't want you to vote, he wants you and your friends to stay home. He's in, he's over, he's got it made! He doesn't want the boat rocked, lest it dump him overboard where he belongs. He prays for a light registration and a lighter vote.

Look what ONE VOTE can do in the United States of America. It was taken from the Handbook for Americans.

"What good will ONE VOTE do?"
"Well, ONE VOTE had a lot to do with a lot of things in this country! Thomas Jefferson was elected President by ONE VOTE in the electoral college. So was John Quincy Adams.

"Rutherford B. Hayes was elected President by ONE VOTE. His election was contested, and it was referred to an electoral college. Again he won by ONE VOTE.

"The man who cast that deciding vote for President Hayes was a congressman from Indiana, a lawyer who was elected to Congress by a margin of just ONE VOTE, and that ONE VOTE was cast by a client of his, who, though desperately ill, insisted upon being taken to the polls.

"By just ONE VOTE there came into the nation the states of California, Idaho, Oregon, Texas and Washington. That's a big chunk of territory and, today, all the millions living in those states are Americans by just ONE VOTE."

and if he can't do the job then, he ought to be replaced. But Mr. Hoover and the FBI can do the job. They have been doing the job. They've been doing a better job than any other agency of security in any government among the free nations associated with the United States. The record of the FBI in this country will bear comparison with famed Scotland Yard. The record of the FBI and of other intelligence agencies among the American military stands out as against Russia's hideous secret police.

This is a curious campaign, a campaign which at this midway point leads skilled observers to conclude that people are becoming more confused each passing day. It is a campaign of distortion. It is a campaign of loose, irresponsible, fantastic charges and counter-charges. It is a campaign that has departed from the realm of common sense and ventured into the fields of the fantastic. What could be more fantastic than that a nation 155 million strong shall be led to believe that the perils presented by 43,217 American Communists overshadow such matters as the writing of a new tax bill next January by a new Congress, the continuance of a farm program that has transformed American rural life, or the continuation of a sound program of America's natural resources which 50 years from now will constitute the bulwark of defense against this horrifying sweep of Communism claiming more old impoverished countries which did not know enough to protect the basic wealth within their own borders?

Men shout Communism. When they do, their listeners should think of 43,217 Communists jeopardizing the homes, the happiness of 155 million who never have lacked for courage, wavered in their faith or their loyalty to American institutions of government. Men shout Communism when they should be telling us, all of us, how they think the next tax bill shall be written, what they propose to do about the fabled riches of the Tidelands oil, or support of the prices of farm commodities. They should be revealing their thoughts about the individual American pocketbook so it in turn may be made dependable and strong against the temptation of Communism or any other "ism."

Is it any wonder people are confused? They would like to know if the new Congress will follow the pattern established by the 80th Congress, the last Republican-dominated Congress, in giving the bulk of tax relief to the swollen incomes. They would like to know whether Gen. Eisenhower or whether a Republican Congress will write the next farm bill on price supports. But instead of the concerns that go directly to every American home, the concerns that affect the shape and form of American life, they are told that the threat posed by 43,000 Communists here must blot out every other consideration in which the American voter has an interest, a natural, decent interest.

Do we believe in ourselves? Do we actually think that we have the intelligence to govern ourselves? Do we have faith in our future? Can we see this country growing stronger and stronger, the freedoms under which we live adding to our strength? Or are we a pitiful victim of our own fears? We for one do not fear that future. We do not fear a misguided Communist of whom there were only 43,217 at the close of 1951—we have only contempt for that Communist. We do not propose to be lost in the fog, blinded by noise.

The time is growing short. We can agree there is no place for Communism in this country. We can agree that the fight against it must go on until the last vestige of its roots are torn from whatever soil in which it has rooted itself. We can agree that we will devote all our energies, our thought and our labor to encouraging lovers of freedom the world over in their struggle against the tyranny of Communism. And though many of us may disagree as to methods, we think all of us agree there are a few matters here at home which need attention.

Small Horseradishes

Something has gone wrong with the 1952 horseradish crop.

Down around St. Louis, which is known, among other things, as "the horseradish capital of America," a terribly hot summer has stunted the growth of the horseradishes. The temperate climate and adequate moisture, plus just the right kind of soil which horseradishes require, were not to be had this year. The 'radishes are undersized, immature and generally not up to par.

The farmers, however, are coming out of the situation without too much difficulty. The price of horseradishes zoomed from $12 a hundredweight to $17 a hundredweight. The horseradish sauce may not be as potent as usual this year, but it should be strong enough to satisfy lovers of strong food, even if the price is up. The hot season didn't help the hot seasoning.

One Point Made Clear

A scheduled television appearance by Sen. Richard Nixon was called off at the last minute, leading to considerable speculation by newspaper correspondents. One of them came up with a possible explanation: Nixon had run out of speech material, since he has only one dog.

A Fighting President Goes To The People

ABOARD THE PRESIDENT'S TRAIN — Some people have seemed quite surprised to learn that I was aboard Mr. Truman's train. One lady in Utah remarked: "Do you really mean that the secret service let you on the train? I should think they would fear for the President's life!"

However, it is very difficult to hate Harry in this, the twilight of his last term. Whether you agree with him or not, you have to admire the courage of a man who, at the age of 68, is up-early-and-out-late making eight to 10 speeches a day for a cause he so fervently believes in.

This, I believe, will rate as a history-making trip, and I am glad to be aboard regardless of whether Harry loves-me-or-loves-me-not.

People have become so accustomed to seeing Mr. Truman whistle-stopping round the country that they don't realize just how historic his trip is. Never before in recent history has any outgoing President of the United States gone out and hit the hustings so vigorously for the man who may succeed him.

When Calvin Coolidge was about to step down in favor of Herbert Hoover, he did not lift a finger to help Hoover's election. Calvin stayed in the White House and sulked. When Franklin Roosevelt ran for the first time in 1932, Al Smith, his predecessor in Albany, did not bestir himself. When Teddy Roosevelt succeeded by Taft, in 1908, he worked for Taft, but at nowhere near the pace set by Harry Truman.

No, this trip, made on behalf of a man who didn't really want Harry to campaign for him, is definitely historic.

And if the folks along the way haven't always realized that history is being made, everything else seems to have turned out in full force to pay tribute to Harry Truman's train. Never were the prairies more beautiful, the red peaks of the Rockies more majestic, the Herefords of Nebraska sleeker, the aspens of Colorado more yellow, Utah alfalfa greener and Iowa corn more golden than on this farewell to the scrappy, sometimes injudicious President of the United States.

Even the weather, which has not always smiled on like Eisenhower, has been kind to Harry. No rain has marred his crowds or dampened his spirits.

As a matter of fact, I don't think anything could dampen Harry's spirits. I have watched Gen. Eisenhower look grim and weary after a few days of speaking. But Truman, aged 68 against the general's 62, not only looks younger than the general, but seems to get younger the more he speaks.

It's a somewhat changed Harry Truman, however, that's making this trip. Harry Vaughan, the bearded military aide (my pal) is not along. There isn't a sign of military brass on the train; no cronies; no poker parties; only a group of young and earnest speech-writers.

The President's new seriousness has developed as he has watched the approaching spectre of a possible Republican victory in November, and realizes that with it, most of the things he has fought for would vanish.

There was a time when he did not think they would vanish, when he felt the general would continue the basic Truman policies. But for days now, as he has read Ike's speeches, Harry has been approaching a slow boil—a boil which spilled over at Oakland, Calif., and Colorado Springs.

That boil was not over Eisenhower alone. It was directed also at Truman's own mistake at trusting the military. No President in years has put so much faith in the military as Harry Truman; no President has appointed so many generals to top civilian positions. Harry liked them, even gloried in them. But one by one, they have belied his faith.

Franklin Roosevelt made use of many generals, but he knew how to keep them in their place. Truman, on the other hand, ever since Battery D days when he was an obscure artillery captain in the Missouri National Guard, has nursed a secret worship of the brass.

So he has surrounded himself with them.

One of the first was Gen. Bedell Smith, whom he made ambassador to Moscow and head of Central intelligence, only to have him make a deadly, damaging statement about Communists in government at the very heart of the current campaign.

Another was Gen. A. Wedemeyer, whom Truman made ambassador to China. Truman liked him, trusted him. But Wedemeyer became an active campaigner for Sen. Taft.

Gen. MacArthur, who had all sorts of economic heads on his head by the President. He was kept in Tokyo against the advice of some State Department officials, and because Truman insisted on it. Then he, too, turned against his commander-in-chief.

Another was Gen. Lucius Clay, who was given civilian control of Germany, a job rightfully belonging to the State Department. But Gen. Clay, a Georgia Democrat, is now a major braintrust for the Republican high command.

However, Eisenhower, Truman thought, would be different. He had driven through the streets of Berlin with Ike, looked up to him, admired him, told him he would help him become President.

Privately Truman was not displeased when Eisenhower won the nomination at Chicago. He was confident foreign policy would remain on a bipartisan, even keel.

But when the general embraced Taft, then Jenner, then McCarthy; and when one-by-one he began to desert the principles he had stood for in Europe, Harry really hit the boiling point.

And when he boiled over, it was not only at Eisenhower, but at the generals in general.

In Step With The Sower

THE Sower after another trip on a Presidential special train is again being besieged with questions about it and exclamations such as, "It must be thrilling!"

And "Did you talk with the President?"

It is an experience but scarcely thrilling. You first are cleared by security officers and receive from the Presidential press secretary a telegram authorizing your admittance to the train. Armed with this you can make your way through the police and secret service lines established about the area of the train.

On entering the train you again present your telegram which is checked against an authorized list of accredited pressmen. You are then briefed on facilities available on the train and given a linen tag to fasten in your left coat lapel bearing your name and the news source you represent and a printed notation, "Trip of the President."

YOU are now an official member of the party, able to get off and on the train at will during stops, cross police security lines, etc. You can go any place, except don't get turned around on the train and attempt to go back to the cars reserved for the President and his immediate staff.

Such a mistake, whether intentional or otherwise, will bring you slap dab up against a pleasant, immaculately groomed young man who stands as firm as the Rock of Gibraltar. What a tackle he would make for Bill Glassford. Nothing goes through or around these members of the Secret Service charged with the protection of the Chief Executive.

YOU pay your fare as on any train and for Pullman services with sleeping accommodations for long trips and a lounge car for short ones. A diner is available with breakfast at about $2.20 not including tip.

A press car contains tables for your typewriter and equipped with a loud speaker so that you can hear the whistle stop talks while working. A stenographic report of all speeches of the President is made available within 30 minutes. Major speeches are distributed in advance of delivery.

WIRE service reporters and the specials (representing a single newspaper) rush from the train at all stops to find out for you the reaction of the crowd. Still photographers also seek every opportunity to get good "color shots."

It is a work trip every minute for the newsmen with every one art and watching for some significant detail. The press car bulletin board keeps them posted on every move the President will make and the newsmen trail along.

At Shenandoah, for instance, they were invited to the free pancakes, but before they could all be served the President started to depart. As one they arose to follow, some dropping forks laden with food half-way to their mouths.

The pancakes looked good, but for a further report the Sower will have to go back to Shenandoah another year. We didn't even get a sample.

BUT as to the speakers, who were doing downfield blocking for the two candidates carrying the ball, they both seemed to get about even applause and attract about the same number of listeners.

The President in reading his speech appeared far below in delivery from talks we have heard him give elsewhere. He hurried through spots where a pause for applause was indicated.

Particularly noticeable was the fact that parts of his speech, which in print appear as scorching attacks on the GOP nominee, in delivery were not emphasized and rather he put stress on party accomplishments.

Whether or not the locale depressed him (the area was a Taft stronghold that went unanimously against Eisenhower) could not be told. But many pre-convention Taft buttons were in evidence in the crowd, probably equalling those for Ike.

Sen. Robert Taft, a member of the so-called "truth squad" that has followed the steps of the President on his trip, by some counts had a few more interruptions by applause than President Truman who had spoken two hours earlier. It was pointed out by some observers that the Taft applause came from grandstand seats while the President's came from the standees.

GETTING up at 5 a.m. to catch the train, paddling your way back to see what crowds think of the talks and pushing through crowds to serve as eyes of the newspaper reader is not thrilling—it's work.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

O Word Of God Incarnate

O Word of God incarnate,
O Wisdom from on high,
O Truth unchanged, unchanging,
O Light of our dark sky;
We praise Thee for the radiance
That from the hallowed page,
A lantern to our footsteps,
Shines on from age to age.

Oh make Thy church, dear Saviour,
A lamp of burnished gold,
To bear before the nations
Thy true light, as of old;
Oh teach Thy wandering pilgrims
By this their path to trace
Till, clouds and darkness ended,
They see Thee face to face.

By HORACE B. POWELL

Bible lovers have always been fond of this hymn, written in 1887 by William Walsham How, bishop of the Church of England, to glorify the Holy Scriptures.

In beautiful, simple language it emphasizes the divine origin of the word of God, its value as a beacon to guide men and women through the storm of life and the responsibility which rests with the Christian church—the custodian of the Bible truths—to spread light over all the world.

Its author was born at Shrewsbury, England, on Dec. 13, 1823, and was graduated when he was 22 from Oxford University. In 1846, a year following his graduation, he was ordained to the ministry and served in a number of important English parishes. In 1888 he was appointed bishop of Bedford and later he served as bishop of Wakefield. His hymn, "O Word of God Incarnate," was turned out in 1887 for a supplement to "Psalms and Hymns," a volume which he and a minister friend, the Rev. T. B. Morrell, had published a dozen years earlier.

The tune "Aurelia" to which "O Word of God Incarnate" is usually sung, was composed years earlier than the poem itself by Samuel Sebastian Wesley for another hymn, "Jerusalem the Golden." Samuel Wesley, grandfather of Charles Wesley, served as organist in some of England's greatest cathedrals.

The People Speak

Are Fluorides Inevitable?

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: When the U. S. Public Health Service sends a man (on the taxpayers' money) to tell 100,000 people in a city that they must drink and prepare food with fluoride-contaminated water, that is taking the controls too far.

How glibly do they think we can be? We all know the country where that type of control would be tolerated, but none of us want to live there.

"Science News Letter" of March 15, 1952, named five doctors of medicine and dentistry in New York and New Jersey who have made tests of the human guinea pigs of Newburgh, New York (fluoridated) and found the blood contained three times as much fluoride as the tests made in the control group in Rochester.

Tooth decay is a symptom and warning that all is not well with the child's diet and assimilation. I hope to make use of that knowledge with my grandchildren.

Taft On Agriculture

Riverton, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: When one reads the history of the Republican party and the position it has taken on the farmers' problems, one wonders how any farmer can vote the Republican ticket.

Only this week has Sen. Taft been endeavoring to woo the farmer back again voting the Republican ticket. To the President's statement that the farmer is now and has been for 20 years enjoying a high degree of prosperity, Taft proclaimed: "You'd think the New Deal invented agriculture. The increase in our standard of living didn't begin 20 years ago. It began 165 years ago when this nation was founded."

Of this 165 years mentioned, I have lived the past 82 years of it. I saw the Republican rule in the 'eighties to 1932, with the exceptions of the Cleveland and Wilson administrations. Under McKinley's Republican rule I saw corn sell for nine cents a bushel, wheat for 40 cents and other agricultural products at similar low prices; livestock the same. Such prices prevailed almost continuously under all Republican administrations of the past.

In those days when the farmer appealed to the Republican administration for relief from such bankrupt prices, what was the response? "My dear farmer, you have a condition of over-production. You have depressed prices of your product by raising too much. You can't expect good prices when you are producing so much." (Now they assert that the great production of our farmers is the cause of our prosperity.)

When the sub-treasury plan was proposed by the farmers—much like the price supporters for farm products now—the Republican leaders cried out: "Socialism, crazy populist fanaticism!" When bank guaranty was proposed, they shouted: "A scheme to debase our currency and bankrupt the banks!" They turned to the laborers who were working for starvation wages and who had appealed to them and said: "Mr. Workingman, there was never a time when you could buy so much with your dollars. Haven't we given you a protective tariff? Do you want to be like the pauper laborers of Europe?"

Only this week did Louis

Bromfield, a champion of Republican policies and a supporter of Gen. Eisenhower, say:

"The special interests and privileged classes that now exist in the United States are organized labor and farmers. Special interests and Wall Street plots belong back in the 1890's and 1920's."

Mr. Farmer, how do you like to be told that you and the laborers are the special interests and favorites of this administration, and that Wall Street and the corporations who were the favorites of the 90's and the 20's have been expelled by the Democratic party? This being true, how can any sensible, informed farmer vote the Republican ticket?

When the Republicans praise McKinley, Harding, Hoover, and Taft and their policies, they are championing a policy to bring about lower prices for farm products and wages for labor. They are advocating higher interest rates and the doubling of debts for all debtors. A debased

Accused Diplomat Withholds Details Of CIA Incident

Insists Plan 'Top Secret'

WASHINGTON (AP)—John P. Davies Jr., career diplomat, accused of recommending that a hush-hush government agency enlist the advice of persons described as Communists, has told senators he could not give them details because the incident was "only slightly less sensitive than that of atomic energy."

Members of the Senate Internal Security Committee, before which he appeared, have since urged a study to determine whether he committed perjury during his testimony. Davies said the 1949 operation involved was being planned by the Central Intelligence Agency, the government's top espionage outfit, and that as far as he knows it was not put into effect.

Davies was asked, at hearings which the subcommittee held behind closed doors in August, 1951, about testimony by a previous witness, who said Davies had recommended that CIA use six persons for consultation and guidance. The subcommittee said three of these had been named as Communists in its hearings. Davies' testimony, only now made public, was taken in connection with the subcommittee's year-long search for Communist influences on U.S. foreign policies, especially in the Far East.

When the subcommittee started to question him about the first of the six persons, Davies said: "This is a question, if it is what you are leading to, which is of a top secret classification, and it is one which very few people in the government are clear to know about."

"It touches on an operation which is only slightly less sensitive than that of atomic energy. I, therefore, am not at liberty to talk about this subject without clearance from my superiors."

The subcommittee, in a report

Truck Driver Training Pays Two Ways

Truck fleet operators attending a special institute at the University of Nebraska Friday were told that driver training not only pays off in safety, it also pays off economically.

George V. Deal, Pennsylvania State College, representative of the

to the Senate on July 2, asserted that Davies had testified falsely "in denying that he recommended the CIA employ, utilize and rely upon certain individuals having Communist associations and connections."

It recommended that the Department of Justice submit to a grand jury the question whether Davies has committed perjury. Davies, a senior State Department officer, contended he had not. He is now deputy director of political affairs for the United States at the West German capital, Bonn.

Recently, Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, CIA director, stated that he regards Davies as "a very loyal and very capable officer."

Jets Are Assigned To Former State Air National Guard

The 132nd Fighter-Bomber Wing, a former Iowa-Nebraska Air National Guard unit, has received the first of six T-33 jet training planes for a training program to convert the wing to jet aircraft.

Six jet trainers have been authorized to the three tactical squadrons at Alexandria AFB, La., according to the official base newspaper.

However, the jet planes will be assigned as received to the 173rd Fighter-Bomber squadron for maintenance. The former Nebraska squadron serviced F-80 jet fighters almost exclusively as an air guard unit at the Lincoln Air Base.

The 173rd was one of five air guard squadrons in the nation to be assigned jet fighters more than four years ago. However, the unit has not had F-80s since after the outbreak of the Korean war and prior to call to active duty on April 1, 1951.

12 Cases Of Polio Reported To State

Twelve cases of polio were reported to the state department of health Friday bringing the total for the week to date to 52 and for the year to 1,790. No county reported more than a single case. The department staff pointed out that the disease is definitely on the decline and that many of the reports received this week are delayed by doctors awaiting developments in mild cases which have been treated at home. However, on the basis of the span of the disease in past years, they estimate the total will reach 2,000 by the end of the year.

Alma's 'Submarine' Bridge Dedicated In Ceremonies

Span Marks Climax To Long Fight

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

ALMA, Neb.—A new bridge nearby is always good reason for a town to celebrate, even if it bears the nickname, "submarine."

And when a town has fought and argued as heatedly for this bridge as has Alma then its opening is a real cause for festivities on Main Street.

This town along the Republican River near the giant Harlan County dam opened Friday a new bridge which spans the river and connects Alma with a large trade territory to the south.

When the bridge was proposed two years ago, nearby towns of Orleans and Republican City joined in an effort to block its construction. They pointed out that the bridge would be under water if the reservoir behind the new dam becomes full. They gave the bridge the title "submarine bridge," and the name stuck.

After some more or less heated public meetings, permission was granted for the bridge at Alma to be built. Friday the story closed with dedication of the bridge, parades, an old-time husking bee and a free pancake feed.

In the afternoon saddle clubs in this vicinity took part in a horse show in the city park. The Alma Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the day's celebration, awarded cash prizes the winners of this and the winners of the husking bee and children's bicycle and pet parade.

Between one and two thousand persons crowded into the city auditorium at noon for pancakes, sausages and coffee, courtesy of the Alma Chamber.

Other events of the day included an educational program for youngsters, band concerts and a public dance Friday evening.

'Needed' Bridge

Speaking at the opening of the bridge was R. E. Welch of the project operations branch of the district corps of Army Engineers in Kansas City. He said the new bridge, together with approaches and fills, has cost the public about $2,300,000.

Welch commended the Nebraska State Highway Department for its co-operation in the bridge construction. He described the new bridge as "needed and worthy" for the region.

The bridge's value, he said, will be recognized not only at the present but in years to come.

The Midland students will also be queried on their knowledge of national and international issues, Miriam Morgan, student president of the IRC, and Jerry Bartles, Midland editor, said.

Grand Champ Steer Brings $2.10 Per Lb.

OMAHA (AP) — The grand champion steer at the Ak-Sar-Ben 4-H Livestock Show sold Friday for $2.10 a pound.

The Hereford was owned by Ed Coyne of Boys Town and was purchased by the Union Stock Yards Company.

The reserve grand champion, a Hereford owned by Don Charlebois, Boys Town, was purchased for $1 a pound by the Blackstone Hotel.

The prices were lower than last year, reflecting in part the lower cattle prices prevailing now as compared with 1951.

Most of the purple ribbon calves went at 38 to 41 cents.

Paxton Girl Has Champ

Jayne Hepperly of Paxton, Neb., exhibited the champion pen-of-five steers. Her five sleek Angus topped the 41 pens entered in the competition.

Runner-up honors went to Jack Adelman of Madison, Neb. His Herefords were placed second by a committee of three judges.

Other purple ribbon winners were: John Moorhead of Moorhead, Ia.; Allen Snell, of Lincoln, and Jim Larkin of Benedict, Neb. Blue ribbon winners: Ernie Hoeft, Carson, Ia.; Ronald Seaback, Council Bluffs, Ia.; E. J. Seigel is currently serving as president of the Nebraska Association of Commercial Organization Executives. Arch J. Bailey of Lincoln is the group's vice president.

Nebraska News

Minden's Polio Precautions Off, Public Informed

MINDEN, Neb. (AP) — Minden wants it known that the polio epidemic ended here weeks ago. And no new cases have been reported for three weeks.

Ray Van Norman, Chamber of Commerce spokesman, said Friday just because Minden was energetic in fighting polio it got wide publicity. As a result he said, people seemed to regard Minden as a sort of isolation ward long after the polio danger had passed.

Although there was not a single polio case involving a high school student, Van Norman said that three high school football games have been cancelled and another postponed, and people in general seem to be avoiding Minden.

Van Norman said that Minden showed deep interest in the polio situation and set about to find out as much as possible about it. The result appeared to be a scare he said.

State's 6th Largest Corn Yield Predicted

Forecast Is Increased 7 Million Bu.

By the Associated Press
Nebraska's sixth largest corn crop in history was forecast Friday by the Agriculture Department.

The estimate set the crop at 254,880,000 bushels—seven million bushels greater than the estimate of a month ago.

The per acre yield at that figure would be 36 bushels, twice as much as the average for this century.

Some of the crop has already been harvested. The rest is "made" beyond the stage where weather or pests can cause significant damage.

By the time of the first real freeze on Oct. 6—a year ago the first freeze was Sept. 28—the crop had almost all matured and was drying so well that some had been cribbed.

The 1950 crop, eighth largest not counting this year's, was originally pegged at 37 bushels an acre but A. E. Anderson, state federal agricultural statistician, said that had been revised downward to 36 bushels. There was also a 36 bushel yield in 1948.

Last year Nebraska produced 187,620,000 bushels of corn or 26.5 per acre. The 10-year average, 1941-50, is 223,532,000 bushels or 29.3 per acre.

'27 Best Year
Nebraska's best corn year from a total production standpoint was in 1927 when 294,036 bushels were gleaned. The best recorded yield per acre was 41 bushels in 1884 and 1878. At that time, however, acreage was much smaller and the soil had more of its virgin fertility.

The new crop estimates, released in Washington, don't reflect the fact that September was extremely dry in Nebraska—a condition that hurts the fall-planted winter wheat prospects more than it hurts the crops maturing this year.

Some parts of southwest Nebraska failed to get any rain during September, and the first one-third of October has been similarly dry.

The Sept. 1 report had set Nebraska's grain sorghum crop at 1,440,000 bushels or 18 bushels an acre, but the report out Friday boosted the per-acre yield to 23 bushels and the total to 1,840.

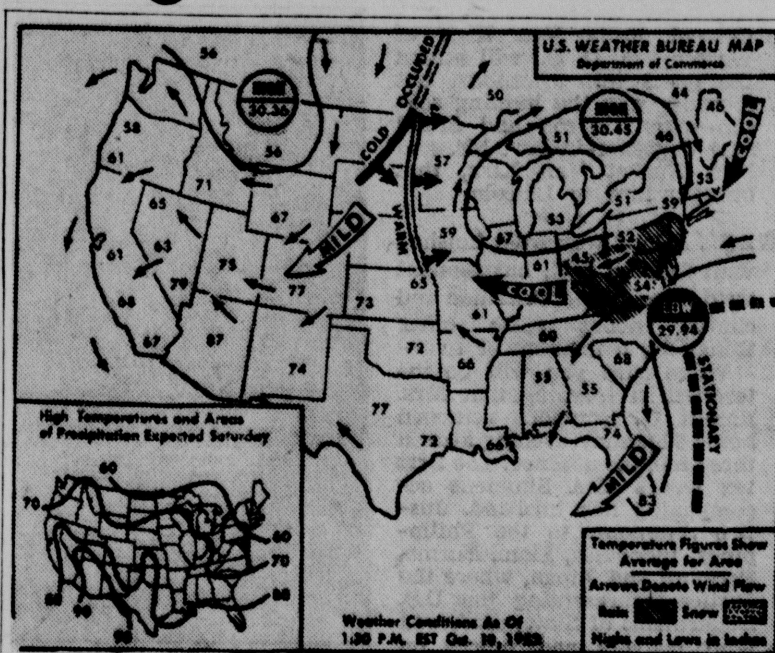

Friday's new monthly crop estimates were compared with those of a month ago on potatoes, sugar beets, and dry beans.

Here are the figures:

Potatoes: Now estimated at 250 bushels or 8,250,000 bushels per acre. Last year's production was 6,000,000 bushels or 200 per acre. The 10-year average is 10,518,000 bushels or 170 per acre. Last month the estimate was 6,600,000 bushels or 200 per acre.

Sugar Beets: Now estimated at 14 bushels or 512,000 bushels per acre, compared with last month's estimate of 6,000 bushels or 12 bushels per acre. Last year Nebraska produced 683,000 bushels or 12.4 per acre. The 10-year average is 704,000 bushels or 12.6 per acre.

Dry Beans: Now estimated at 952,000 bushels or 100 bushels each or 1,700 bushels per acre, compared with the month-ago estimate of 868,000 bushels or 15.4 per acre. Last year Nebraska produced 838,000 bushels or 12.5 per acre. The 10-year average is 921,000 bushels or 13.2 per acre.

FAIR WEATHER SEEN—Showers are forecast Saturday for southern Florida while rain will fall in middle Atlantic states and will end early in the day. The rest of the United States will be fair. Cool weather will continue in New England and middle Atlantic while the rest of the eastern half of U.S. will have rising temperatures. Northern Rockies will be slightly colder with little change in temperatures expected over the rest of western states. (AP Wirephoto Map, Friday Night.)

Norfolk Woman To Head State Garden Clubs

NORFOLK, Neb. (P)—Mrs. R. G. Goodell of Norfolk was elected president of the Nebraska Federation of Garden Clubs at the federation's closing convention session here Friday.

Mrs. Roy Flebbe of Omaha was chosen first vice president; Mrs. Eric Miller, Cortland, secretary; and Mrs. J. Arthur Nelson, Omaha, treasurer.

About 125 persons attended a smorgasbord Thursday night. Awards were presented during the smorgasbord by Mrs. Lyle Guyer, Omaha, Fontenelle Park Club president. The recipients: Goldenrod Garden Club, Osgallala, civic project, award; Bertrand Garden Club, Bertrand, and Green Leaves Garden Club, Ralston, printed year books; Green Garden Thumb Club, Norfolk, and Botany Club, Omaha, mimeographed yearbook.

The Norfolk Clodhoppers Club won an award for its hand-written yearbook.

A silver pitcher, given for attendance at state meetings, was won for the fourth consecutive year by Scottsbluff.

Losieau Sent To Nebraska Prison; 20-Year Sentence
OMAHA (P)—Robert W. Losieau, whose admission of a South Dakota slaying was received with skepticism by officers of that state, has drawn a 20 year Nebraska prison sentence on burglary and habitual criminal charges.

A jury had convicted Losieau, 32, of a super market burglary here in March. District Judge Carroll O. Stauffer found Losieau guilty of being a habitual criminal. Losieau has had five previous convictions.

To Appeal Verdict
Public Defender Joseph Lovely said he would appeal the verdict. After his arrest for the super market burglary, Losieau said he had killed Town Marshal Clyde Rogers of White Lake, S. D., in February, 1948.

Roy R. Milliken, a South Dakota investigator, questioned Losieau and commented that the man "knows a lot about the case," but said he would not recommend prosecution unless more evidence developed.

If the commission should find any portion of the increase not justified, the company would have to refund that amount plus six per cent interest.

Under the proposal Natural would be required to distribute the higher cost of a new supply of gas over its entire system instead of concentrating the increase in part of the system.

Louis DePra, commission staff counsel, told a reporter that under Natural's proposal almost all the $2,400,000 increase would fall upon down-line customers west of Joliet, Ill.

Such a method of applying the boost, he said, would have no effect on the People's Gas, Light and Coke Co., Chicago, and the Northern Indiana Public Service Co., and would have only a slight effect on the Public Service Co. of Illinois, another Chicago concern.

Boy Scouts Honor Woman Physician Treating Youths

OMAHA (P)—A woman doctor who traveled 78 miles into the Wyoming mountains to attend 21 flu-stricken Boy Scouts was a guest of the grateful Scouts and their parents at a banquet and court of honor.

Twenty-nine Scouts of Omaha Explorer Post 42 had gone to the Wind River range in Wyoming Aug. 2. Five days later, 21 of the 29 were stricken with the flu.

Some of the Scouts trudged 22 miles to a telephone and summoned Dr. Mary A. Nylander of Lander, one of Wyoming's few women doctors. She came 78 miles by car, jeep and horseback to treat the boys, all of whom recovered.

One of the five Scouts who had escaped illness on the Wyoming expedition, Bruce Meier, 16, missed the "thank you" party for Dr. Nylander.

He was home with the flu.

Introducing— The Calvin McMillans

Meet the McMillans, who are in the process of settling their first real "house-home" at 4139 E street with the star of the family, two-month old Kent! Mr. McMillan has just completed his doctorate in botany and is now with the University of Nebraska.

A native of Murray, Utah, Prof. McMillan received his bachelor of science and masters degrees at the University of Utah at Salt Lake. He went on to the University of California to complete his education and this summer spent an interesting three months on New California Island, just off the coast of Australia, collecting plants that grew in serpentine soil, for the university. Although he enjoys the outdoors...camping, picnics, field trips, tennis... Prof. McMillan does not carry his botanical training out into the garden, for as yet he has expressed no insatiable desire to pull weeds or to rake the lovely autumn leaves!

Not to be outdone in the academic department, charming Mrs. McMillan is an herbaceous botanist, having received her bachelor of arts and master's degrees from the University of Iowa! After her graduation she worked for five years in the botany department of the University of California where she met her husband. She has been a full time housewife just since the day of Kent's arrival, but loves the sewing, cooking and decorating that is not the integral part of a career girl's day!

During any spare time the McMillans had together they packed up the two sleeping bags and headed for the pine and cypress pigmy forests to sleep under the stars and gather data on their field trips. By next spring, they hope to resume a life of picnics and camping trips, for by then Kent will be old enough to join them and to use that inevitable toddler's curiosity to a splendid advantage!

An Extra-Festive Morning

Friday Bride

WHAT WITH THIS, and what with that, our news supply for the current Saturday ayem is up to par—Guests, of course, always add that something extra-festive to any news, and since this is a football weekend it is needless to say that out-of-towners are numerous. We mentioned several of the names that are down in our guest book yesterday, but this morning we have even more and by Monday we doubtless will have learned that there were several we missed.

THE FOOTBALL week-end, has nothing to do with the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. James McDermott and their daughter, Nancy, of Louisville, Ky., who came a few days ago to spend two weeks as the guests of Mrs. McDermott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wentz, and Mr. McDermott's family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDermott.

AMONG THE courtesies for Mrs. McDermott during her stay here, is the luncheon on Monday for which Mrs. Frank McDermott will be hostess when she entertains at her home.

THEN WE LEARNED that Colonel R. L. Clem, rector of St. John's military academy at Salvia, Kan., and Mrs. Clem accompanied Cadet Fred Ferris from Salvia to Lincoln to spend the week-end as the guests of Cadet Ferris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walton C. Ferris.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ferris entertained at a family dinner at their home.

A POSTSCRIPT to the Ferris family has to do with a recent house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ferris—Miss Karin Von Schumann of Saarbrücken, Germany, who left this week for Minneapolis after spending three weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Ferris.

ANOTHER NAME in our guest book is that of Mrs. Rose Hurley of Rome, N. Y.—where she spends the summer—and St. Petersburg, Fla., to which she devotes the winter months. Mrs. Hurley arrived earlier this week for a ten days or two weeks visit with her niece, Mrs. R. A. Phillips. Since her arrival Mrs. Hurley has been kept busy with numerous informal courtesies, and on Sunday evening she will share honors with Dr. and Mrs. Louis Brown of Charlottesville, Va., the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Orme, when Mrs. Phillips is hostess to a small group of guests at an informal supper.

MENTION OF Dr. and Mrs. Brown reminds us of the deluge of courtesies for them—For your information Mrs. Brown is the former Kathryn Newton and is a former member of the Lincoln public schools faculty—Anyway, the Browns, who arrived just a day or two ago, certainly have been kept on the hop, skip and jump with informal affairs in their honor.

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wade were a dinner host and hostess at their home, complimenting the visitors, and on Friday Mrs. Brown was the honoree when Mrs. C. S. Guenzel was a luncheon hostess at the Lincoln Country club.

The Friday night calendar included a dinner for which Miss Mary Gutheie was hostess at her home, and the calendar for today is bulging—First there is the pre-game luncheon for which Mr. and Mrs. Orme have invited guests to their home—Then the game, and a festive evening.

Sunday morning Dr. and Mrs. Brown will be honored when Miss Eva Erickson is a breakfast hostess—Sunday night, as we already have mentioned is the supper for which Mrs. R. A. Phillips will be hostess—and on Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rohman will preside at dinner at their home, honoring the visitors.

Tuesday will find Dr. and Mrs. Brown en route home to Charlottesville.

BOTH THE east and the west coast are represented by guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dosek—Mrs. George de Hueck of Hazardville, Conn., is our easterner, and Miss Joanne Norris of San Francisco, former coed at Nebraska where she is a Pi Beta Phi, is the westerner.

On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Dosek will compliment the visitors when they entertain at a pot-luck supper at their home following the game. The group will be completed by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Samuelson of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. William Cartmell.

THERE ARE guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Nicola, too—Mr. Nicola's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nicola of Wisner, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Nicola, will be in town for the game and the week-end.

WE RATHER SUSPECT that

Colonel Rolla Van Kirk of Washington, D. C., will attend the game this afternoon, but it really was the hunting season—plus his son and brand new daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Burket Van Kirk, that brought him to Lincoln.

WE'RE A long way from finished with football talk, but thought we'd have a brief interlude and chatter about some other things for a moment or two—

We're sure you will be interested in learning that Mrs. Robert G. Simmons returned home Thursday evening after a three months absence. The first ten weeks Mrs. Simmons accompanied her husband, Justice Simmons, to the Philippines, Indonesia, Siam, Burma, Formosa and Japan, where the Justice, representing the U.S. Department of State, conferred with lawyers and judges on legal and court procedures.

Before returning to Lincoln, Mrs. Simmons visited her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman C. Wear (Jean Simmons) in Menlo Park, Calif., and en route home stopped off at Scottsbluff for a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Simmons Jr.

MRS. RICHARD STRATTON

Chrysanthemums in shades of pink, wine and white, and lighted white candles decorated the chancel of the Elmwood Church of Christ for the marriage of Miss Eleanor Irene Schlanker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Schlanker of Elmwood, to Richard Stratton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell R. Stratton of Weeping Water, which took place Friday evening, October 10. In the presence of one hundred fifty guests, the Rev. N. F. Horn read the lines of the service.

Miss Joyceella Eidenmiller, pianist, played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Richard F. Pratt who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." Lighting the chancel candles were Mrs. George Buell, Murdock, and Mrs. Marion Wenzel, Lincoln, sisters of the bride.

Mrs. Donald L. Schmidt of Eagle, was her sister's matron of honor and wore a waltz-length frock of dusty rose Chantilly lace. The molded bodice was fashioned with a low, rounded neckline and brief sleeves, and the skirt flared into fullness. A head bandeau and long mitts were of matching lace, and she carried a crescent of pink Fuji chrysanthemums and croton leaf foliage. Frocked in pink taffeta was the flower girl, Carole Jeanne Schmidt, and Milton Schmidt was ringbearer.

Robert Stratton of Lincoln, served as best man, and the ushers were Donald Schmidt, Eagle, George Buell, Murdock, and Marion Wenzel, Lincoln.

The bride's gown of white silk Chantilly lace over white silk faille was designed with a long fitted bodice and full dance-length skirt. Seed pearls patterned the lace of the bodice, which had long sleeves ending in points over the hands, and her illusion veil was held by a bonnet brim, of lace trimmed with pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Stratton will live in Lincoln.

We Hear That

Capt. and Mrs. John E. "Jack" Spink of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., are the parents of a son, John Edwards Jr., born on Tuesday, Oct. 7. Mrs. Spink is the former Lenora Lindgren of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cramer, and Capt. Spink's mother, Mrs. Henry Spink, is also a resident of Lincoln.

Officers Wives Aid TB Drive

(STAR PHOTO)

The Naval Air Station Officers Wives Club met Friday morning at the Lancaster County Tuberculosis Association office to give volunteer assistance to the association. Primarily a social club, the members plan to participate in various civic projects in Lincoln.

Extension Club

Mrs. Stanley Vanderslice entertained the members of the Plainview Extension Club, Thursday afternoon, when the group held a bazaar of kitchen accessories. Mrs. Lee Hunt, president, conducted the short business meeting, and following group singing, a lesson was presented on "Whether I Have Insurance Or Not." Guest for the afternoon was Mrs. Orville Slote.

Early Fall Ceremony

At a 9:30 o'clock ceremony which took place Monday morning, September 15, at St. Patrick's church in Gretna, Miss Darlene Adele Koke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Koke of Gretna, became the bride of Harold M. Kreifels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kreifels of Lincoln. The Rev. Paul E. Schneider read the lines of the service before an altar arranged with flowers in autumn tones.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Margaret Patterson, organist, who also accompanied Anthony Melia, vocalist.

Mrs. Lloyd Royal of Millard, was her sister's matron of honor and wore a net-trimmed frock of satin in the American Beauty tone fashioned with a brief bolero jacket. Wearing similar frocks of satin in the peacock blue shade with full overskirts of net were the bridesmaids, Miss Eleanor Koke and Miss Jo Ann Koke of Gretna, also sisters of the bride. The attendants all carried shower bouquets of pompons and carnations frilled with lace. Frocked in American Beauty satin and net was the flower girl, Karen Royal, niece of the bride, and ringbearer was Bobby Schreiter, nephew of the bridegroom.

St. Sgt. Kenneth Kreifels served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Vernon Kreifels and Mark Kreifels of Lincoln, also brothers of the bridegroom, Bernard Kreifels, Nebraska City, and Lloyd Royal of Millard.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and Chantilly lace. Lace fashioned the fitted, long sleeved bodice, and trimmed the full skirt, forming a redingote effect, and her illusion veil was held by a halo of satin and net patterned in seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of deep crimson roses, and a crystal rosary.

A reception was held at the church followed by a wedding dinner for members of the family and bridal party at the home of the bride's parents. Upon returning from a trip to the Ozarks, Mr. and Mrs. Kreifels will live in Lincoln.

The bride is a former student of St. Catherine's hospital school of nursing in Omaha.

Eisenhower Spearheads Drive To Win Southwest From Demos

More Turn Out For Ike Than Adlai

By RELMAN MORIN
ABOARD EISENHOWER CAMPAIGN PLANE (P)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, carrying his presidential campaign, to the Southwest, warned that "there is no hope that the free world can combine to hold back Communism" without a strong United States.

Making four speeches in Arizona, New Mexico and Utah, the Republican presidential candidate hammered hard on the necessity for creating a government that will unify all groups in the nation. As he moved eastward from California, the general was following the exact route taken last month by his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

He was outdrawing Stevenson in size of the crowds at every point. Although Arizona and New Mexico were carried by the Democrats in 1948, Republican strategists consider them "doubtful states."

They are fighting hard, with the general himself spearheading the attack, to put these states in the Republican column this year. Apparently in line with that battle, Eisenhower scored the Truman administration at each stop in a series of accusations.

Feels Confidence Gone
The main one, he said, was that present government has lost the confidence of the people.

More than that, he said, it has lost prestige in the eyes of the nations of the western world. And he said that unity and prestige must be restored if the country is to lead the struggle against Communism.

"If we do not have that strong America," Eisenhower said, "there is no hope that the free world can combine to hold back Communism. We hold back Communism not only by putting up a solid front in the places where it may seek to affect military aggression but by fighting those misfortunes, those conditions that are favorable to the propagation of that dread disease."

Eisenhower identified the condition as "poverty, ignorance and squalor."

Much of what Eisenhower had to tell his audiences in these states dealt with regional problems of special interest to the people here.

He reminded his audiences that the Reclamation Act is 50 years old this year and scorned Democratic claims that a Republican administration would build no more of the great public projects in the West.

Two Youths Ordered To Boys' Training School

Two boys were sent to the Boys' Training School at Kearney Friday by order of Juvenile Court Judge Harry A. Spencer.

The boys, 14 and 16, have previous records. They were charged with creating a public disturbance. Another boy, 14, involved in the same charge, was released in the custody of his parents.

A boy, 14, charged with stealing auto accessories, was placed in the Cedars Home for Children.

A baby girl, born to a young woman now confined in the Girls' Training School at Geneva, was committed to the Board of Control.

Courthouse Employees Will Observe Holiday

Lancaster County Courthouse employees will observe a court holiday Monday, Oct. 13.

Columbus Day, Oct. 12, is a court holiday. Due to the fact that it falls on a Sunday, the holiday will be observed Monday.

All offices in the courthouse will be closed.

INDIAN GIRLS GREET STEVENSON—Indian girls from the Cheyenne and Arapahoe school at Concho, Okla., were on hand to greet Gov. Adlai Stevenson when the Democratic presidential candidate arrived in Oklahoma City for a campaign speech. The Illinois governor is shown shaking hands with Mary Kay Hawkins, 3, who is too young for school but got in on the party because her father drives the Indian school bus. DEMOCRATIC DEVELOPMENTS

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Democratic presidential candidate Gov. Adlai Stevenson will address the convention of the AFL-International brotherhood of Teamsters in Los Angeles next Thursday.

The union, which convenes only once in five years, opens its sessions Monday.

Interest centers chiefly around the possible retirement of Daniel J. Tobin, president for 45 years.

Dave Beck of Seattle, West Coast leader of the union, has been mentioned as his probable successor.

LOS ANGELES (INS)—James Roosevelt, former Democratic national committeeman for California, has charged that Los Angeles newspaper publishers "picked up the check" for a cocktail party for Gen. Dwight Eisenhower in Los Angeles.

The eldest son of the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt declared: "They have made no such gracious gesture toward Gov. Stevenson."

He said this amounts to "obvious Republican bias" on the part of Los Angeles newspaper publishers.

Roosevelt added: "We had the press against us almost 90 per cent in 1948. We won then and we shall win again."

Booing Of Truman Starts Fist Fight

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (INS)—A fist fight broke out in the crowd listening to President Truman here.

A man who booed the President's critical references to GOP candidate Eisenhower, Gov. Tom Dewey and the "Republican Old Guard" was the loser.

The man was holding an Eisenhower banner and booing the President. Another man in the crowd who apparently resented the booing slugged the boomer in the eye with his fist.

The police took the boomer away.

REPUBLICAN DEVELOPMENTS

OIL CITY, Pa. (INS)—Richard Nixon has labeled President Truman and some of his friends and aides "crooks and incompetents."

In a whistle stop address here, the Republican vice presidential candidate declared that Gen. Dwight Eisenhower told him that if elected President his one test of a program or a bill would be "what is good for America."

He added: "Just compare that with the kind of leadership you've got down there now (in Washington)."

"Compare that with Harry Truman, Harry Vaughn, RFC (Donald) Dawson, (Ambassador William) O'Dwyer—all the rest of these crooks and incompetents—why, I tell you folks that's what America needs, we just need a good decent, American leadership down there and Eisenhower is the man that can give it."

Jim Bassett, Nixon's press secretary, later told reporters the Californian was not specifically calling anybody a crook and incompetent. Bassett said Nixon meant "there have been and are crooks and incompetents in the government."

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (INS)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's approach to the problem of government aid to provide increased medical care for the American people as outlined in Los Angeles was termed "thoroughly realistic" by California Gov. Earl Warren.

Warren also commented on California's enthusiastic reception for Eisenhower, but declared it's too early to predict whether the GOP candidate can or will carry the Golden State.

Warren, who himself had sought the Republican presidential nomination and then joined Eisenhower to stump California, said of the outpouring of people at Eisenhower appearances in California: "I never saw in my life such enthusiasm for anybody in political life."

GOP Caravan Ends; Called Huge Success

By The Associated Press
Nebraska Republicans Friday wrapped up their campaign caravan and called the operation a complete success. The GOP caravan made its last stop, after four weeks on the road, at Scribner.

Next to the last stop for the Republican stumping party was Wisner. Caravan members reported there that in their four weeks' tour they had passed out 50,000 "I Like Ike" campaign buttons.

Mrs. Edna Basten Donald, Grand Island, national committeewoman, said she had been traveling with the caravans since they started ten years ago and that she had never seen such large crowds, nor so many women, turn out.

Main Concerns
She said women have indicated their concern mainly over two things: First the Korean War and second corruption in Washington.

In the final stop at Scribner, Robert Crosby, Republican candidate for governor, discussed conservation and said a big job still remains for soil conservation districts in Nebraska.

But, he said, "We can find much encouragement in the progress of our state during the last 15 or 20 years. In that time we have probably done more to conserve our natural resources than in all the years before that time."

Sen. Nixon Fund Attorney Ordered To Explain Check

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Dana C. Smith, the attorney who handled the $18,000 Nixon fund, has been ordered to explain about a $42,000 check on which he stopped payment.

Smith asked that he be allowed until Nov. 10 to make a deposition, but Superior Judge Ellsworth Meyer denied his request and ordered him to explain the matter Oct. 31.

Smith was sued by Frederic S. Weichman as the assignee of Norman Rothman, reportedly the owner of nightclubs in Havana, Cuba and Miami, Fla.

Smith said there was no connection with the Rothman check and the Nixon fund.

U.P. To Entertain 125 Future Farmers

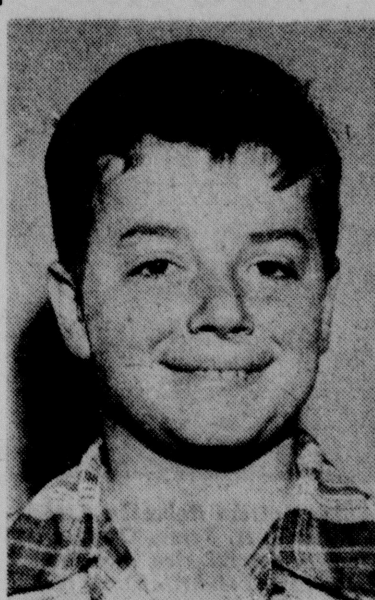

OMAHA (INS)—About 125 Future Farmers of America will be guests-for-a-day of the Union Pacific railroad next Friday.

The youths will be returning to their homes in the west from the 24th national convention of the FFA at Kansas City.

They will be guests at a luncheon and will tour Boys' Town, the stockyards and the Union Pacific shops and historical museum.

State Insurance Group Urges Traffic Mishap Survey

Scottsbluff Man New President

The Nebraska Association of Insurance Agents Friday asked the governor to appoint a fact-finding committee to study ways of reducing traffic accidents and the resultant loss of life and property damage.

This action came in the form of a resolution approved during the final day of the convention at the Cornhusker hotel. Earlier, John G. Elliott of Scottsbluff was elected the new president to succeed Ben Joyce of Lincoln. Other officers are Robert M. Byrne of Omaha, first vice president; Charles D. Sayre of Lincoln, second vice president; and Charles A. Kahrhoff of Grand Island, secretary-treasurer.

The group's Safety Committee suggested that the Nebraska Safety Council, inactive since 1949, might be revived to form the nucleus of the fact-finding committee, but that the committee should be financed and operated by individual members, instead of the state.

"The alarming accident rate of the state will continue to increase due to overloaded highways, careless driving habits, and other factors," the committee reported.

Hugh D. Combs of Baltimore, executive vice president of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, pinpointed the problem:

"Financial stability of some casualty insurance companies is threatened by these losses. And because of restrictive underwriting the years of work of agents who happen to depend principally on commissions received from automobile business are threatened with destruction."

"There are numerous causes of automobile accidents, but essentially they are all rooted in selfishness which leads to rudeness and discourtesy in driving," he continued.

"The result of this attitude and driving habits of American public has been an ever-increasing destruction of human life and property."

Verdicts have skyrocketed and claim costs have soared because of inflation, Combs pointed out. Designed by persons of artistic temperament and not by claim men, the streamlined fenders, absence of running board and bumper, and bent-glass windshields cost twice as much to be replaced, and often the required skilled labor can't be found," he added.

Safety work of the association during the past year included continued distribution of billfold-size Driver Education certificates to high schools offering driver courses in their curriculum. The group said 6,950 cards have been issued in 47 schools.

G.I. Plant Workers Getting Back Wage

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (P) — Nearly $315,000 in back pay started being dished out Friday to about 2,000 present and past employees of the Cornhusker Ordnance Plant here.

The employees are those who were or are doing production and inspection work.

Last Dec. 15, the Silas Mason Company, operators of the plant, and Chemical Workers Union, Local 492, AFL, signed a contract containing wage increases subject to approval by the Wage Stabilization Board.

Approval from the WSB came July 18 and the pay raises then were put into effect.

The current payments represent the amount of the increase from the time the contract was signed last December until the boosts began to show up on paychecks last July.

Wesleyan Bows, 27-7, To Bobcats

Plainsmen Score Peru In First Half

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member
FRIDAY night was a night of frustration at O. N. Magee Stadium in Lincoln.
But the Peru Bobcats were a little less frustrated than the Nebraska Wesleyan Plainsmen, and the Cats won a 27-7 verdict in a comedy of errors sprinkled with some fine running plays.
Wesleyan, twice-beaten by two NCC foes already, was frustrated again after leading highly-touted Peru at the end of the half. The Bobcats scored 14 points in the third quarter and 13 in the final period to slap down the Plainsmen.
Wesleyan's fine left halfback, was frustrated momentarily in the first quarter. He scattered 67 yards on a near-touchdown run, only to be brought down on the two-yard line by Peru Tackle Bob Lade.

However, Hultquist smashed over for a TD moments later, and booted the extra point.
And the Plainsmen might have scored a little bit sooner than they did, but for a 15-yard roughing penalty that nullified Mack Hunt's recovery of a fumbled Peru lateral on the Peru 5-yard line.
But Coach Al Wheeler must have had plenty to say to his Peruvians during half-time intermission, for the Cats came back howling, without any signs of their first-half frustration.

Thus it was that NWU was again frustrated in its bid for its first NCC win of 1952. For Peru marched 72 yards in 16 plays before Dick Stockman plunged two yards to score and Curt Lindell converted to tie the score with seven minutes gone in the second half.
It was the master-minding of Quarterback Ned Egan which sparked the Cats in their second-half drive, but the former Pawnee City ace had no part in the second Peru score.

Tackle Bob Lade, who shone like a beacon on defense for the visitors, grabbed a Marv Macy fumble out of the air and ran 40 yards to pay dirt with 16 seconds remaining in the third period. Lade converted.

Eckman got into the scoring column midway in the final contest when he kept the ball and flashed through the left side of the Wesleyan line 50 yards to score. Lindell converted.

Lindell recovered a fumble which resulted from a fouled-up Wesleyan Statute-of-Liberty play, and gave Peru the ball on the Plainsmen 30. Dick Allen scored ten plays later on a six-yard sweep around right end.

Then came one of the night's top comic scenes. After three extra-point tries, interspersed between penalties and complicated by a discussion between the officials and Peru Coach Wheeler, Lindell missed a placement from 17 yards out.
About the only complete success of the night was Prof. Robert Marshall's Wesleyan band, which entertained the crowd of 2,000 with several numbers based on a nautical theme.

Peru scored: TD—Stockman, Lade, Eckman, Allen, PAT—Lindell (3 placements). Wesleyan scoring: TD—Hultquist (placement). Officials: Chuck Worrall, Hermie Rohrer, Ed Hirszenbotham, Leonard Duerk.

Seward Batters Central City, 18-0

Special To The Star
SEWARD—A hustling Seward ball club defeated Central City, 18-0, Friday night to pick up their second win of the season.

Jim Griffin scored at Seward's points. He set up the first TD with a 96-yard dash in the second quarter. The play went from the Seward two down to the Central City two.

Seward iced the game in the fourth quarter by pushing over two touchdowns. Delmar Peters, Bob Billin and Griffin paced the Seward crew.

Scoring: TD—Jim Griffin, 3.

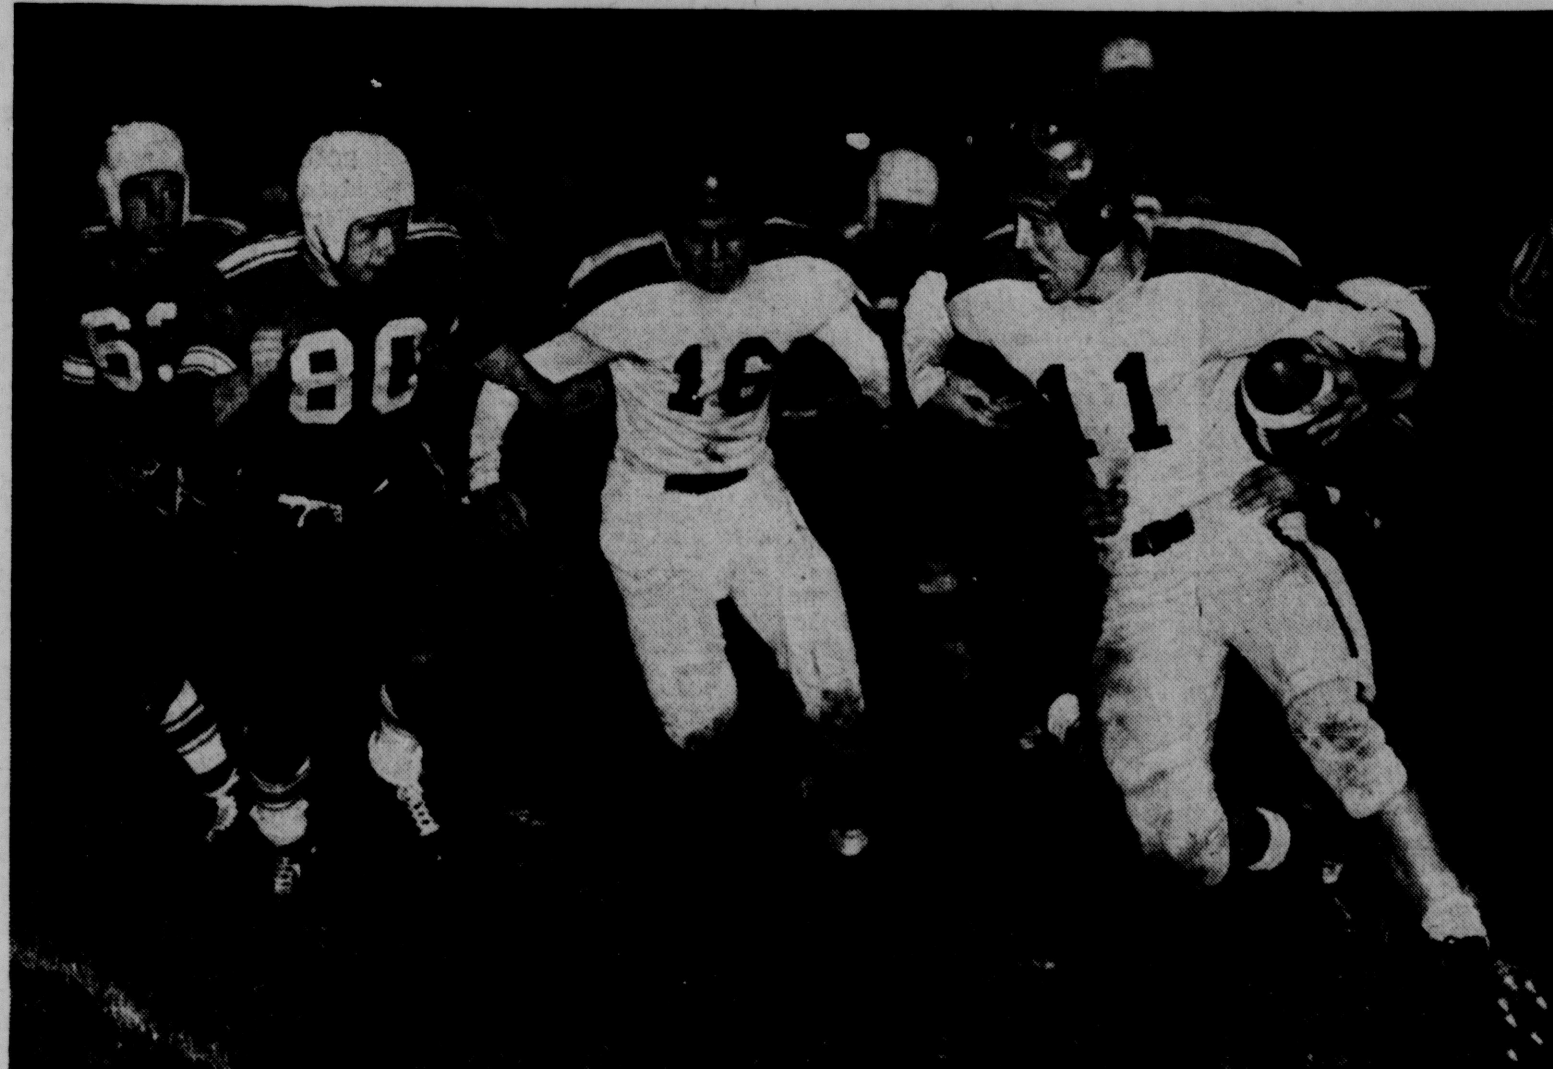

Bucknell Sneaks Past Underdog Temple, 19-12

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bucknell University, led by speedy Brad Myers, used a timely pass defense and a couple of key penalties Friday night to rack up its 16th straight win in defeating the underdog Temple Owls 19-12 before 12,000 fans at Temple Stadium.

The record for field-goal kicking at West Virginia U. is held by Ed Kenna who in 1901 booted three for distances of 42, 45 and 50 yards in a single game.

Bulldogs Clip Wildcats, 13-7

Lincoln Star Special
FRIEND—The Friend Bulldogs took over the role of giant killers Friday afternoon and smacked down the Geneva Wildcats 13-7.

The Bulldogs, vying for a place in the Class C standings, rammed over for touchdowns in the first and fourth periods to nip the fifth place Wildcats.

Wes Hager tallied the first marker midway in the first quarter by running over from five yards out on a quarterback sneak. The play was set up when a Geneva player was charged with pass interference on a fourth down attempt.

Geneva scored its lone tally in the third stanza when Don Hault took a Dick McCashland pass for 15 yards in the end zone. McCashland passed to Keith Everette for the point.

With four minutes left in the game, Don Svehla intercepted a Geneva pass on the 43 yard line and got to the five before being stopped. Bernard Svehla hauled the leather the remaining distance. Bernard Svehla tallied the point on an end sweep.

Boston U. Upsets Miami Hurricanes

BOSTON (AP)—Boston University's underdog Terriers upset the Miami University Hurricanes 9-7 Friday night as the hard-charging Boston line smeared Miami's Bob Moschetti for the clinching safety late in the final period to break up a tight intersectional clash in Fenway Park.

Don Boll, Husker tackle, and Paul Schneider, Varsity trainer, represented the team with Reynolds. Schneider told the rallying students that "it takes a lot of guts for the same team to stage a comeback after the so-called disastrous 1951 season."

The rally started in front of the Student Union and was led by a torch parade down 16th to Vine and then over to the Coliseum. Then things in general began to warm up.

60-Day Duck Season Gets Under Way Today

HOT, dry weather which has prevailed over the state for the past several weeks may prove a deterrent to hunters today as Nebraska's 60-day duck season gets under way.

Nimrods are entitled to cut loose their barages at noon but, according to a report from State Game Commission Enforcement Chief Bill Cunningham, ducks may be hard to find.

Drying up of the ponds and waterways frequented by ducks, it is felt, likely to cause a concentration of ducks in areas where water can be found.

Said Cunningham: "If the ducks can't find water in their area, they will try elsewhere. This might lead to a converging of the birds in an area where there is plenty of water."

"That, in turn," Cunningham continued, "would attract many hunters and could produce an early season kill. If such a situation develops, the birds will migrate elsewhere—possibly into states where hunting is not so congested."

With the exception of today, the opening day, hours for hunting are designated as one-half before sunrise to one hour before sunset.

Bob Tells Fans 'Victory Road Is Just Starting'

Victory-hungry University students gave their all in a rally Friday night to show Nebraska's Cornhuskers that a little blood makes them want more—this time from the Kansas State Wildcats.

Doing anything to make more noise than their fellows, including beating dishtans, ringing bells, and sounding sirens, about 1,000 loyal Cornhuskers heard Husker halfback Bob Reynolds say the team considered the season just started.

"We got by OK last week," he said, "but we didn't improve. We didn't please either the coaches or ourselves. As far as we're concerned, tomorrow starts the victory road for us."

The rally started in front of the Student Union and was led by a torch parade down 16th to Vine and then over to the Coliseum. Then things in general began to warm up.

Gohde Sparks Nebraska 'B' To 14-0 Win

Special To The Star
BUENA VISTA—The Nebraska "B" team slid past Buena Vista College, 14-0, with two second half tallies Friday night on the Iowa gridiron.

Fullback George Gohde of Lincoln sparked the junior Husker attack by racking up both touchdowns.

In the third quarter, Gohde ripped through right guard to the first Cornhusker marker. Emil Radik kicked the extra point.

On fourth down and eight yards to go in the fourth period, Gohde again carried the mail, this time for 16 yards. Radik again booted the PAT.

The "B" squad suffered a couple of serious injuries. Halfback Max Kennedy received a broken arm in the second quarter.

Diercks "Bullet" Ralston twisted his leg and was unable to continue. Ralston had a 79-yard run called back in the first half because of an off-side penalty.

Two Husker drives bogged down on the Buena Vista three and four yard lines in the first half.

Nebraska outgained the Iowa foe, 220 yards to 50.

Hard-Charging Links Top Aggressive Bearcats, 13-7, In Tightly-Played Game

By WAYNE PANTER
Star Sports Staff Member

A Scottsbluff Bearcats who stamped themselves as one of the most aggressive teams to meet Lincoln High on its home gridiron in the past three seasons played the Links right down to the wire Friday night before bowing out in defeat, 13-7.

Dick McWilliams, Lincoln's rising backfield star, scored both the Link touchdowns and added a point after touchdown to send them flitting away from the West-erners.

Although the Links gave better than they received throughout the game, they were never out of danger. The Bearcats played for the breaks and late in the game set the fans on the edge of their seats as they struck for a swift touchdown which might have disorganized a lesser team than Coach Bill Pfeleff's state champions.

Good as the Bearcats were, the Links were even better. Lincoln's unquestioned superiority was reflected in the rushing statistics. The Red and Black's ground attack netted them 236 yards while the Bearcats could put together but 101 yards via the same route.

McWilliams, Don Erway and Ted King alternated in piling up mileage against the Bearcats, who seldom brought them down before they had chewed off effective gains.

Most of Lincoln's rushing yardage was traceable to rugged tackling on the part of the Bearcats. Fully three-quarters of their tackles were of the head and shoulder variety.

The Bearcats lost little time in demonstrating their power. After an exchange of punts, they took over on their own nine and in 10 plays rolled to the Lincoln six where they were held for downs.

Fullback Don Comstock and Halfback Corky Skilleit were the big guns in the drive.

Erway flipped the first of the two passes the Links tried on the next play and caught the Bearcat defensive napping. Bob Barnett juggled the leather to the 39 before he was nabbed. King contributed runs of 20 and 11 yards.

Holy Name Slides Past Scrappy Cathedral, 14-2

BY TOM BECKER
Star Sports Staff Member

OMAHA Holy Name ground out an unimpressive 14-2 victory over a game but out-manned Cathedral eleven Friday night at the College View field.

The Bluebirds, rated a three touchdown underdog, were never out of the game until the final quarter when the Ramblers pushed over their final touchdown.

Cathedral started the night's scoring when, on fourth down, Rambler Bob Daily attempted to punt from his own six but John booted on his 45 and out to the west sidelines to score untouch- ed. The score came with less than a minute left in the first half.

Chuck Blankenship kicked the extra point.

The third quarter was mostly a see-saw battle with Holy Name once moving to the Cathedral 9 but a penalty stopped the drive.

In the fourth period, Daily intercepted another Costin pass and ran to the 'Bird 33.

On the next play, Daily, aided by a key block from Jim Blair, sped to the 9. Two plays later, he smashed over from the 4. Blankenship again booted the PAT.

The game was halted momentarily while the officials retrieved the ball from some trees behind the end-zone after the long extra point kick.

In the last few seconds, Holy Name raced to the Cathedral three-yard-stripe but the clock ran out.

Fagan and Jerome Bartek rushed through the Omaha line and blocked the boot.

The ball was recovered by Holy Name's Dennis Tooley to give the hosting 'Birds a 2-0 lead.

At the start of the second quarter, the Ramblers took over the ball on their own 30 after a Cathedral punt.

On the effort of Red McAndrew's passing and Daily's running, Holy Name picked up three straight first downs and moved the ball to the Bluebird 10 where they lost the pigskin on downs.

Cathedral put the ball out to their 30 where Stan Peters' pass was intercepted by Daily on the 'Bird 46.

Omaha marched to the 21 where Dennis Costin intercepted one of McAndrew's aeriels.

Joe Clark was forced to punt from his own 24. Daily took the College Grid Crews Take Over Stage

Four Headline Contests
To Get Top Billing With Baseball Thing Of Past

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK (AP)—Three games that have everything and one that will have everybody make up the big four of college football for the season's first Saturday when the grid sport will draw undivided attention.

The three that combine tradition, red hot rivalries and mighty teams are Princeton vs. Penn in the East's Ivy League, Maryland vs. Georgia in the South and Oklahoma vs. Texas in the Southwest.

The other is the weekly "television game" between Michigan State and Texas A&M at East Lansing, Mich., which will be watched by countless fans who can't go to other games — and probably by many who could.

These aren't the only games of major importance. From East to West there are such others as William and Mary-Navy, Wake Forest-Villanova, Tulane - Georgia Tech, Wisconsin-Ohio State, Pittsburgh-Notre Dame, Baylor-Arkansas and Oregon State-Stanford which might easily fit into the "everything" category.

In the Ivy League, where football again has become a by-product of academic progress, Penn and Princeton are the only teams strong enough to break into the headlines nationally. Princeton, boasting a 24-game winning streak, was ranked tenth in the nation in the Associated Press poll this week. Penn only drew passing mention, but in trying to pick the winner the experts had to settle for a tossup.

Texas and Oklahoma haven't lived up to their pre-season ratings yet. Texas dropped a tough one to Notre Dame and Oklahoma was tied with Colorado. But they have a pair of potent teams and the oldest inhabitant of these parts can hardly remember when their meetings failed to produce a rugged, exciting game.

In a rivalry that dates only from the 1948 Gator Bowl game, Georgia, an impressive winner of three games, figures to give fourth-ranked Maryland a real tussle. A duel between two exceptional passers, Maryland's Jack Seabath and Zeke Bratkowski of Georgia, will be a highlight.

Michigan State, rated No. 1 in the pre-season polls, dropped behind Wisconsin this week after barely squeaking past Michigan and Oregon State. Texas A&M doesn't figure to be as strong as those two, but should provide enough action for the televiewers.

Defending its top ranking and a share of the Big Ten lead, Wisconsin plays rugged Ohio State at Columbus while challenging Purdue takes on Iowa.

Other games of special interest send California, the No. 3 team in the weekly rankings, against Oregon; fifth-ranked Georgia Tech against a possible toughie, Tulane; Duke, No. 6, against South Carolina and Kansas, No. 9, against Iowa State.

Although they don't involve top teams, Cornell-Syracuse, Dartmouth - Army, Columbia - Yale, Clemson-Florida, George Washington-Virginia, Louisiana State-Kentucky, Mississippi-Vanderbilt, Washington - Illinois, Indiana-Michigan, Southern Methodist-Missouri, Baylor-Arkansas, Colorado-Arizona, Oregon State-Stanford and Rice-UCLA are games of considerable importance.

NBA Calls Jersey Joe No. 1 Heavy Contender

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Boxing Association said Thursday that Jersey Joe Walcott, who has had an unprecedented five chances to win the world's heavyweight title, is entitled to another chance.

Its quarterly ratings put the new champion, Rocky Marciano, at the top, of course. But right below him is that old familiar name: Walcott.

The only others listed as logical contenders for Marciano's new crown are Rex Layne and Ezzard Charles, the onetime heavyweight king who is attempting a comeback.

Walcott lost a decision to Joe Louis in 1947, and then lost to him again, on an 11th round knockout, in 1948.

After Louis retired, Charles unanimously decided Walcott in a 1949 bout recognized by the NBA as a championship fight.

Walcott lost to Ezzard Charles in March 1951, then knocked him out, in July, to become Heavy-

Bobby Jones Rests Up From Heart Attack

ATLANTA (AP)—Bobby Jones, the King of Golf who retired in 1930 after making the first and only grand slam, is recovering from a heart attack in an Atlanta hospital.

Jones was on the way to visit a doctor Tuesday for an examination into pains he had experienced for several days when he suffered the attack.

Col. Robert P. Jones, father of the 5-year-old retired golfer, said his son was not driving at the time of the attack and did not lose consciousness. His condition was reported good Friday.

Since 1948 Jones has been operated on twice for a spinal ailment. Since the second operation he has walked with two heavy canes and his right leg is in a steel brace.

He has not played a round of golf in four years. He is a partner in one of Atlanta's largest and best known law firms.

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Wisconsin, with its eye on the Rose Bowl, and Ohio State, with its eye on an upset, clash Saturday in the Big Ten's top tilt before a crowd of 75,000.

The unbeaten Badgers, rated No. 1 in the country, were favored to win by at least a touchdown. But the Bucks, smarting from last week's 21-14 loss to Purdue, are conceding nothing.

The cold figures, including Wisconsin's 20-6 win last Saturday over defending champion Illinois, don't give the Bucks much of a chance. But it was the same a year ago when the Bucks were outplayed from start to finish and emerged with a 6-6 deadlock.

Carl Witt and Ameche have accounted for 504 of the team's 558 rushing yards. Haluska, who started the season as fifth-string quarterback, has completed 20 of 35 passes for 337 yards and four touchdowns. Witt catching six for 121 yards and a score.

In two games the Badgers have outgained the Bucks 898 to 745 yards and on defense Wisconsin has allowed only 399 yards while the Ohioans have yielded 576. Wisconsin has scored 62 points to Ohio's 47 in two tilts, allowing 25 while the Bucks have surrendered 34.

Ohio has moved freshman Bud Bond and sophomore Jim Merrell into starting linebacker jobs and Wisconsin has yanked Capt. George O'Brien out of his offensive guard berth and placed him on defense, with George Steinmetz assuming the offensive chore.

Wisconsin will use the conventional T-formation, with Ohio maneuvering from the split-T. Game time is 1 p.m., Central Standard Time.

VanLanningham Paces
Wymore To 27-20 Win

By JIM CLARK
Star Sports Staff Member

WILBER — Powered by Ron VanLanningham's running and passing, the Wymore Zephyrs bulldozed their way past Wilber's Wolverines, 27-20, here Friday night.

All the 136-pound speedster did during the course of this brisk evening was pace his mates with a pair of touchdowns on the ground and pass for the other two.

The Wolverines exploded in the first period as if they were going to turn the game into a rout and topple the Zephyrs from 10th place in the Class C standings.

But following the halftime intermission, and trailing 20-13, the Zephyrs came back with a bolstered defense that had the Wolverine offense bottled.

Before the game was a minute old, Jerry Fuhrman, a 150-pound rambler from the middle field stripe to pay dirt. Rod Buck booted the PAT to send the Wolverines ahead, 7-0. Another Wilber tally, two minutes later, with Ken Vosika carrying the leather 65 yards, was nullified by an offside penalty.

Wymore tied the game before the first stanza had ended when VanLanningham sneaked over from the one to cap a 62-yard march. Jim Mall kicked the point.

The Wolverines took advantage of a Wymore center that went astray to the Wymore field with Buck going over on the next play.

Seven plays later Wymore came back with a second TD as VanLanningham crossed from the four. Mall's kick was wide.

Four minutes after the second half opened, Wymore knotted the count as VanLanningham hit Mall on a 55-yard heave into the end zone. Mall added the point on a fake placement.

Wymore dealt the finishing blow with the clock running out. Taking the ball on their own 10, where a wolverine thrust fizzled when Virgil Marshall recovered a fumble, the Zephyrs pushed to the Wilber 10, before VanLanningham uncorked a pass that landed in Marshall's arms in the end zone.

VanLanningham fought his way through the entire Wilber defense, arfter picking up a bad center for the PAT.

Notre Dame Hits NCAA TV Program

... Raps 'Loot-Splitting'

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—The University of Notre Dame, already critical of the NCAA limited football television program, expressed even stronger opposition Friday to a proposal to share the TV proceeds among more than 300 NCAA members.

"This share-the-wealth idea is socialist, illegal, immoral and un-American," asserted Edward (Moose) Krause, Notre Dame Director of athletics.

"It threatens the entire future of the NCAA and might well cause the death of the association."

"Why not go all the way and split up all gate receipts and endowments among the NCAA members?"

Krause said Notre Dame struggled and fought to build up its prestige but is not a wealthy school.

The Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, then president of the University, condemned the NCAA-controlled TV program last June in a letter to Walter Byers, executive director of the collegiate group. He, too, called it socialist and said the one-game-a-Saturday plan penalized success.

Krause said the entire university shared that opinion.

The NCAA three weeks ago turned down the University of Pennsylvania's request to televise the Notre Dame-Penn game, not on the NCAA schedule, after all tickets were sold, but later allowed a telecast in the Philadelphia area.

In New York, Asa Bushnell, director of the NCAA's television program, said the NCAA's television committee "definitely has not presented any 'share the wealth' plan."

"Nearly five months ago, the NCAA television committee communicated with the presidents, faculty representatives and athletic directors of all of the association's member colleges," Bushnell said.

"Its letters to these various interested parties predicted difficulties in the future when subscription television will have greatly increased the financial returns from football telecasts, and mentioned as a possible corrective a partial distribution of excess receipts from this source."

"The committee expects to make recommendations to the next NCAA convention for long-range television policy, but it definitely has not presented any 'share the wealth' plan."

WAHOO—Blair battled its way to a slender 13-12 decision over Wahoo here Friday night in a game that saw both clubs battling the other to a standstill during the second and third periods.

Wahoo tallied in the first quarter on a 22-yard Leonard Lindgren-to-Bill Edwards pass to cap an 80-yard drive. Blair snapped back in the same frame, recovering a Wahoo fumble on the Warrior 19 and sending Mike Dixon across from the two six plays later.

Lee Murdock kicked the point after touchdown that was to be the winning margin.

Blair tallied again in the fourth quarter when Jim O'Hanlon ground across from the three after a 55-yard drive. Another Lindgren-to-Edwards pass carried the final 25 yards of a 70 yard march following the Bears' kickoff and rang up the final tally.

Defensive standouts were Guard Jim Thompson for Wahoo and End Ronald Bachman for Blair.

Sheridan And Riley School Work Bids Are Received

$280,000 Is Involved

General bids on the Sheridan School addition, estimated at $280,000, and the Riley School addition, estimated at $90,000, were opened and recorded Friday afternoon by Dr. Steven N. Watkins, secretary of the Lincoln board of education.

Because of the closeness of the bids and the number of proposals and alternates asked for, neither school officials nor the architect, Martin I. Aitken, would make a statement as to the "apparent low bidders" without study.

Low bids on the Sheridan addition were submitted by the W. J. Assenmacher Construction Co. with a base bid of $169,450 and the Olson Construction Co. with $171,159. However, four alternates were asked.

Cook Low

Apparent low bidder for the Riley School addition on the general construction was George Cook with a base bid of $62,425 and no alternates. However best package-bid was submitted by the M. W. Anderson Construction Co., with a bid of $90,366. A similar bid of $93,600 was offered by Wilson Construction Co.

Other general contractor's base bids included:

M. W. Anderson Construction, $65,844.
Kingsley Construction, $68,792.
W. J. Assenmacher, $70,924.
Olson Construction, $77,270.
Wilson Construction, $86,500.

Board members and consulting architects will study alternate bids of both companies before accepting the low bids at the meeting of the board of Education Tuesday.

Other Sheridan general contract bidders were George Cook, $171,400 and no alternates; Kingsley Construction Company, $175,130 with alternates.

Electrical Work

Apparent low bidder for Sheridan electrical work was George Knapp with $9,950. Other bids were $12,275 by Commonwealth Electric and $10,522 by A.B.C. Electric.

For heating and plumbing the Ace Plumbing & Heating bid $38,-834 base with $750 alternate, and Acme Plumbing & Heating, $38,-894.98 with $300 alternate.

Other bids ranging from $42,-

Aldrich Appointed To State Bankers' Vice President Post

Fred S. Aldrich, vice president of the Continental National Bank, has been appointed vice president of the American Bankers Association for Nebraska.

The appointment was announced by W. Harold Brenton, newly elected Association president and president of the State Bank of Des Moines, Ia.

As vice president for Nebraska, Aldrich will have the responsibility of membership activities on behalf of the ABA and will maintain liaison between the national association and individual banks in the state.

Aldrich has served on the executive council of the NBA and is at present serving a three year term on the executive council of the ABA.

900 to $40,120 were submitted by Natkin and Co.; Newberg and Bookstrom, and Reinhardt Brothers.

State Approves 2 Bids On Weighing Units; 2 Rejected

Bids on two of the four weighing stations were rejected by the State Highway Department, Harold Aitken, state engineer, said Friday. He explained that the prices asked for building the scale houses were out of proportion to the two accepted.

Bids rejected were for the scales at Waverly and Hebron. Accepted were bids for building at Nickerson and Laurel.

It was also announced that bids had been accepted on 16 road graveling projects and four rejected as too high.

The letting called for a total of $105,856 of construction funds and $93,480 in maintenance funds. All were projects not eligible for federal aid and will be built exclusively with state money.

30 Delegates Attending Teachers Council Meet

Approximately 30 delegates are attending the two-day annual meeting of the Nebraska Council of Teachers' Education which opened Friday at the University of Nebraska.

R. L. Fredstrom, assistant superintendent of the Board of Education, is in charge of the meeting. The committee devoted Friday morning to committee reports and spent Friday afternoon meeting as a full council. The meeting will continue Saturday.
